

Brussels Delegates Will Appeal to Japs To Support Peace Plan

This Decision, Reached by Parley Leaders, Must Be Ratified by Conference at Session Before Action.

Japan Informed Delegates Represent 9-Power Pact Signers, Not League

Brussels, Nov. 4 (AP)—A committee of the Brussels conference will send an appeal to Japan to join peace negotiations with China.

Such a decision was reached today at a private meeting of leaders of the parley, and must yet be ratified by the full conference—at this afternoon's session.

At the same time, the leaders decided to send a message to Germany asking her to reconsider her rejection of an invitation to the conference.

The project to address a new formal invitation to Japan to participate was abandoned, on the ground that more practical results probably would be achieved through a committee which really could be a committee of mediation.

The Italian delegation said the message to Japan would take the form of a letter in reply to Japan's communication declining to participate in the conference, called under provisions of the nine power treaty which pledges respect for the territorial and political integrity of China.

Sovereign Convocation
The idea is to assure Japan that the Brussels conference is a sovereign convocation under the nine power treaty, and has nothing to do with the League of Nations, Japan, not a league member, contended in refusing to join the deliberations here.

The message to Japan also would try to induce Tokyo to state general terms upon which she would be ready to open peace discussions.

The full conference, after approving institution of the committee, must carefully draw its mandates. Some differences have developed upon this question of powers of the committee, which probably would include two or three members.

The Italian delegate, Count Luigi Aldrovandi-Marescotti, especially insisted upon the wisdom of a tactical approach to Japan.

The present plan is, that when the committee is set, the conference will adjourn until the smaller group has something to report. The American delegation indicated it would remain at Brussels and await developments. The mediation committee, naturally, also would establish contact with the Chinese government, or the Chinese delegation.

May Ask Belgium
The impression prevailed here that Belgium would be asked to sit upon the committee.

Count Aldrovandi-Marescotti told newspapermen, after this morning's session, that the only way to handle parties in conflict is to bring together the two parties and negotiate a peace.

This morning's conference included all the signatories of the nine power treaty, except China, and, of course, Japan. Russia was represented.

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—A dilapidated tiger skin adorned the floor of Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's office today. A fang was missing. To one tattered ear was pinned the following note from First Deputy Police Commissioner Harold Fowler:

"Wounded in 1933—killed in 1937."

The tiger is Tammany's traditional emblem.

Campaign Celebrated
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—The State Agriculture Department celebrated today a 19-year campaign during which tuberculosis in dairy herds has been reduced to less than half of one per cent.

More than 400 agriculturists from western United States and Canada were expected to join in the program which featured addresses by State Agriculture Commissioner Holton V. Noyes, representative William T. Byrne and Dr. A. E. Cameron of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Canada, among others.

Pope Rests Today
Vatican City, Nov. 4 (AP)—Pope Pius gave himself over to complete rest today. The pontiff spoke briefly yesterday at the inauguration of a new altar at the basilica of St. John Lateran.

Vatican sources said his doctor advised rest after this activity which followed so closely his return from Castel Gandolfo, his summer residence. These same sources added, however, that the Pope was not ill.

Destroyer Launched
Osaka, Japan, Nov. 4 (AP)—The first class, 1,500-ton destroyer Minikumo was launched today.

The 34-knot ship mounts eight torpedo tubes and six 12.7-centimeter guns.

State Republicans Planning Program for 1938 Assembly

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—New York Republicans planned today an early "program-building" conference designed to lay the groundwork for the party's control of the 1938 state Assembly.

Returned to Assembly power for the third straight year in Tuesday's election, the party's high command indicated it might meet early next month, possibly in Albany, to discuss a legislative program for its 85 assemblymen.

At the same time, Republican control of the 1938 constitutional convention, called next April to revise the state's organic law, also appeared certain on the basis of late returns from outlying districts, all normally Republican strongholds.

With only 1,079 of the state's 9,084 districts yet to be heard from, the Democratic delegates-at-large to the convention led by the Democratic bloc, 1,350,974 to 1,233,606. The Republicans already have secured one less than the 85 delegates necessary for a convention majority.

Principal issues for convention debate are reapportionment of the state's legislative districts, departure from the present state financial setup, revisions of the sections dealing with crime and the judicial system, clarification of the powers of the legislature to appropriate funds for relief, old age pensions and unemployment and health insurance, provision for state aid for slum clearance and relaxation of the prohibition against gambling.

85 Republicans
Specifically, the 1938 Assembly will seat 85 Republicans, 61 Democrats and four American Laborites—the latter group represented for the first time. The Republican majority is the largest the party has held since 1920 and nine more than the bare 76 working margin it had this year.

Republican leaders were quick to recognize the sweep that also carried with it Republican winners in a majority of the 50-odd mayoral contests.

The party, said Republican Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Hoek, "demonstrates the people are looking for an effective braking device in this state on unsound and experimental economic and political policies emanating from Washington."

"The people," he added, "also recognize that the 1937 Republican Assembly session was progressive and in accord with the times."

Mayor-Elect Has Own Ideas on City

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—Mayor-elect Thomas L. Hollingsworth paid a "good will" visit to the city hall, but within an hour declared, "If I ran a business like this city is being run, it would be bankrupt in six months."

Hollingsworth, Independent Democrat, who nosed out his opponent, County Republican Chairman Edwin P. Jaekle by 1,410 votes, went to the city hall at 8:30 a. m. He reported he found not a single decent head and only a few employees on the job.

Hollingsworth found a group in the building inspector's office, still with their coats and hats on, discussing the election.

Baltimore, Nov. 4 (AP)—The welcome that will be accorded the Duke and Duchess of Windsor if the American labor-study tour arranged by Charles E. Bedaux includes Baltimore, was jeopardized today by labor groups in the former Wallis Warfield's "home" town.

The Baltimore Federation of Labor, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, last night "warned" organized labor of the city against "slumming parties" professing to help and study labor.

In an unanimously-passed resolution, the group flared at Bedaux's "stretch-out" efficiency system which he has established in some leading industries, expressed strong disfavor of the Duke's friendly visit with Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, and asserted the Duchess exhibited no friendliness to labor while she lived here.

"Immediately preceding this visit (to the United States)," the resolution declared, "the Duke and the Duchess . . . visited Nazi Germany and . . . studied labor under the personal guidance of Dr. Ley (Dr. Robert Ley, leader of Germany's labor front), the man who ordered and ruthlessly directed the destruction of all German free trade unions . . ."

The former king and his wife continued their study of labor problems with Adolf Hitler, the world's most notorious foe of democracy . . .

Denounce Bedaux System
"They have announced that they will study labor in this country under the guidance of Charles Bedaux, whose vicious adaptation of the Taylor system like the labor appeasement program of Germany would apply the stretch-out system to labor in this country . . ."

If the former Baltimore debutant who married a member of a royal family the document said she was "one who while a resident here in no way showed any sympathy for problems of labor or of the poor and needy."

Joseph P. McCurdy, president, in introducing the resolution laid particular stress on labor's antipathy toward Bedaux, whom he termed an "arch enemy" of labor.

"This man, this Charles Bedaux, created more harm and havoc here in America with his speedup and stretch-out system xxx than any other thing that has cropped out against the labor movement in many years," he said.

It was not the first time that Bedaux's efficiency system has drawn the fire of labor's ire. Bedaux terms it the "B plan."

It uses as a basis what are termed "B units." When Bedaux introduced it, he and his assistants watched a normally productive worker and noted the time it took him to perform a particular task.

If it took an hour, the normal speed for the operation was placed at 60 "B units"—60 minutes. Assuming the pay for the work was 60 cents an hour, another worker who completed the same job in 40 "B units"—40 minutes—would save 20 units and would be paid 80 cents an hour.

However, a worker who took 50 minutes for the job still would receive the basis 60 cents per hour. On this ground Bedaux has asserted his system does not tend to "speed up" labor output. Labor, on the other hand, has charged the system exerts pressure to work for additional pay and results in a speed up.

As engines 809 and 814 chugged into the West Shore station Sunday evening, bringing train 528, better known as the milk train, down the old Ulster & Delaware railroad, Wilbur Elmendorf completed 54 years of railroad service, most of which was spent as conductor on the various trains of the old Cornell-Coykendall system.

The retiring conductor was met at the station by Trainmaster F. W. Gleisner, Conductor Emory Crawford, and a host of friends and relatives who had gathered to greet the genial railroadman as he stepped down from his last run.

Wilbur Elmendorf came to Roundout in the late summer of 1883 from his home, located at Olive, searching for work, and through the efforts of some friends, the 17-year old boy obtained a job on the "milk" gang, or section gang, on the old Ulster & Delaware Railroad. He remained on the work train until Old Man Winter closed the Hudson river and cut down traffic on the road, and then returned to the family homestead until spring, when he resumed his position on the section crew.

Shortly after the resumption of work in the spring, Wilbur Elmendorf was offered the opportunity to become a brakeman on the work train, and held this position until the summer passenger business commenced when he was transferred to the job of brakeman on the passenger trains.

However, he was on the extra board and for four years he worked in the summer and laid off during the slack winter season. Then in 1887, Mr. Elmendorf obtained a regular position as brakeman on the morning passenger train out of Roundout.

Becomes Conductor
In 1889, just six years after he entered the service, Wilbur Elmendorf received a promotion to the position of conductor, beginning a long term of years as "skipper" of various trains, which terminated Sunday evening in his retirement.

When quizzed concerning his various experiences during his 54 years of railroading, Conductor Elmendorf stated that "I was on a stone train once which made a right lively run down Pine Hill."

The veteran railroader replied negatively when asked if he had ever had charge of a train on the Stony Clove branch when it was narrow-gauge, or if he had ever traveled on old "Number 26," the inspection engine which was, in his opinion, the finest inspection engine in his time.

He did tell of his trips as conductor of the Ontario Fair excursion trains and also recalled a trip he had made as brakeman with Conductor John Francisco, behind Engine No. 10, when "we ran down over the Walkkill Valley tracks to Montgomery and then with a pilot engine over the Erie tracks to Goshen to meet Major Cornell who was on the Erie."

John Metzger, 9, Puts Out Fire and Saves Lives of Three Younger Brothers

John Metzger, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Metzger, by his nerve and quick action last night, saved the lives of his three younger brothers and probably saved the Metzger home from destruction, when single-handed he extinguished a fire at the Metzger home that had burned the curtains from a large double window and scorched surrounding woodwork.

The Metzger home is located about two miles from the south Ashokan boulevard, on the road leading to Marlinton. The cause of the fire was not ascertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Metzger had gone to call on some neighbors, leaving at home John, his brother, Philip, aged six, and his twin brothers, William and Robert, aged four years. The twins were in bed, but John and Philip were studying their lessons when John noticed that the curtains over a large window near the sink were blazing.

The boys called for help and Rudy Firmanck, son of a neighbor, who heard their cries and who was also alone, telephoned to his mother. The telephone operator heard the call and notified the sheriff's office and Deputy Sheriff Ray Wience and Clayton Vredenburg went to the scene.

Clayton, meanwhile, notifying the Woodstock fire department, which responded with its new pump, arriving at the Metzger home within ten minutes.

On their arrival, however, the rescuers found that young John had extinguished the flames with water drawn from the faucet at the sink just under the blazing curtains. A burned hand and singed forehead showed that his labors had not been unattended with danger to himself.

Dr. Sanford Warns Measles Epidemic Is Possible; Seven Cases

Health Officer Says Kingston Has Had No General Outbreak Since 1933 — Cycle Every 3 or 4 Years.

EARLY SIGNS

Parents Asked to Note Early Symptoms and to Advise Board of Health.

Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, warned of a possible outbreak of measles in the city, and said that at the present time there were seven cases reported in Kingston. "Due to the fact that we have had seven cases reported within the last two weeks," he said, "there is a likelihood of many more cases occurring, and it is thought advisable to release information regarding the disease."

Dr. Sanford said that measles was a disease which has a tendency to occur in epidemic form in a community, usually once in every three or four years. Kingston has had no epidemic of measles since 1933.

"It is difficult to check the spread of measles," said Dr. Sanford, "because of its highly contagious nature, especially in the early stages. The early symptoms are a cold in the head, red inflamed eyes, discharge from the nose and a cough. The eruption or rash does not appear until three or four days from the onset and is a coarse, blotchy rash which first appears on the face and neck and extending down to the chest and over the body."

Early Communication.
"By the time this occurs," said Dr. Sanford, "the child has communicated the disease to all with whom he has come in contact. It is therefore urged that parents watch their children, especially those who have been exposed to the early signs of measles. If signs appear it is advisable to keep the child at home and isolate other children in the family. By this means only can the spread of the disease be checked. Measles is transmitted to others by direct contact only."

"It is particularly dangerous to children under three years of age, because of the danger of pneumonia occurring at this time. Proper nursing and medical care are of the utmost importance in order to avoid complications."

Dr. Sanford said that parents are responsible for reporting cases occurring in their homes to the board of health. If no physician is called, it is required that children having measles be kept at home and isolated until they have entirely recovered. This is usually for about a week, Dr. Sanford said. No placard is placed on the house.

One Skeleton—No Takers
Wilmington, Del., Nov. 4 (AP)—A human skeleton shipped from Germany had no friends today. Officials at St. Francis Hospital, to which the bones were consigned, refused to receive the remains because the owner had been cancelled some time ago. They ordered it returned to Germany. U. S. Customs officials inspected the package for a routine inspection last night. "Put him back in his box," Luther L. Starnes, deputy collector of customs, ordered. "Nail on the lid again, too."

New Soldiers, Well-trained, Thoroughly Disciplined and Equipped, Give New Impetus to Kai-shek's Legions.

MORALE HIGH

Furious Fighting Observed Along Soochow Creek, Casualties are Heavy.

By JAMES A. MILLER

Shanghai, Nov. 4 (AP)—Thousands of fresh Chinese troops, well-equipped and thoroughly disciplined, poured into Chinese positions today on the front at front.

Added by these reinforcements, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's youthful legions fought furiously against the Japanese veterans.

Ignoring aerial bombing planes and the Japanese heavy artillery, the Chinese time and again lashed out at the Japanese troops.

The result was that Japanese positions along the south bank of Soochow creek became almost untenable.

I found the Japanese had landed at only one place along Soochow creek, where they drove a narrow wedge into the Chinese position south of the creek.

The Chinese morale was exceedingly high despite severe casualties.

After viewing the Chinese in combat, an American military observer remarked: "It is inspiring to see these untutored and half-trained Chinese boys with their inferior equipment and lack of experience standing four square against seasoned Japanese warriors."

"The world can no longer belittle the fighting ability and bravery of the Chinese soldier, but must applaud him, for in sheer heroism he is a match against any soldier in the world."

Park Area Bombarded
Shanghai, Nov. 4 (AP)—Japanese forces trying to drive Chinese south of their Soochow creek positions today bombarded the Jessfield Park area near British army outposts.

As Shanghai allies started to clear, Japanese planes took the air to drop a number of small bombs on the right bank of the Chinese line extending westward from Shanghai.

The Japanese drive suffered a setback, a Chinese spokesman declared, when Chinese artillery destroyed two of three bridges Japanese engineers had thrown over Soochow creek. He added, however, that severe fighting was in progress on the south bank beyond Rubicon village.

There were persistent reports that Chinese were on the verge of withdrawing from the entire Shanghai peninsula, but the reports were without confirmation.

American and foreign observers said the first Japanese objective apparently was the Hunanji air-drome three miles southwest of Rubicon.

Fighting On All Fronts
Spirited fighting was under way on all fronts in China, but neither Chinese nor Japanese were able to achieve clear-cut gains toward major objectives. From first hand observation and from communications of the two nations it appeared that a temporary stalemate had developed.

In North China, the tide of battle shifted back and forth along the Peiping Hankow railway with Chinese declaring their forces had launched an offensive which carried them northward across the Chang river, 17 miles north of Changteh, in northern Honan province. (Japanese at Peiping declared the Chinese attack was repulsed.)

Japanese asserted they had captured Nanchang, a city of 100,000 people, and a railway gateway to the inland industrial capital, Taiyuan. Chinese, however, declared that only a small Japanese force had penetrated the pass.

Counter Offensive
Along the Tientsin-Pukow railway, Chinese asserted a counter offensive was pushing Japanese back to a line 32 miles north of Tsinan, Shantung province capital. (At Peiping, a Japanese communiqué said 15 divisions of Chinese troops were in line as Japanese advanced toward Taiyuan.)

Japanese said they had reached Hsinhsien, a walled city 40 miles north of the capital. Two divisions of Red army troops were reported retreating in northeast Shansi.)

Despite deadlocked land battles, Japanese continued with aerial activities. A scout plane flew over Tsinan, Shantung province, a report which previously had been untouched by war.

Twenty bombs were dropped at Sungking, southwest of Shanghai, with a heavy toll of lives and damage to a power plant and a girls' school.

A Japanese spokesman announced that negotiations for proposed neutralization of Nantao, Chinese section south of the French concession, were proceeding satisfactorily.

Too "poor" to buy himself a meal or lodging for the night, William F. Beck (above) asked for lodging in Flatbush, N. J., city hall. Routine search showed he had $39 in cash and bank book credits of $25,000.

Common Council Meets on Monday To Canvass Vote

The Common Council will meet as a board of canvassers at the city hall on Monday morning at 10 o'clock to canvass the vote cast in the city on Tuesday. The official report of the canvass two years ago by the council shows that Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk defeated his Democratic opponent, Charles A. Burger, that year by 2,592, which was the largest majority ever recorded, as far as known for any city candidate. The nearest it was approached was the vote cast this year for Attorney Matthew V. Cahill, who was elected city judge, defeating William A. Koerber by a majority of 2,511, which is the unofficial figure.

Two years ago Mayor Heiselein in the Republican landslide carried every ward in the city, except the Sixth, polling 8,560 votes, or a majority of 2,288 over William B. Martin, his Democratic opponent.

This year Mayor Heiselein carried seven out of the 13 wards in the city, with a majority which, the official count is expected to show as about 809.

The mayor carried the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth wards this year.

Political observers comment that the majority given Mayor Heiselein this year was remarkable, considering the fact that the entire Democratic attack was launched against him in the campaign.

Ad for Corn Growers
Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—The administration came to the aid today of corn growers disturbed by low prices and arranged to finance 1937 corn loans at the rate of 41 to 50 cents a bushel. The loans, similar to those made by the AAA in previous years, will be handled by the Commodity Credit Corporation with a $75,000,000 advance from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

3 Germans Executed
Berlin, Nov. 4 (AP)—The executioner's ax fell three times today, decapitating three Germans—Peter Hansen, 29; Adolf Rembe, 35, and Roberts Stamm, 37—sentenced to death by the people's court for alleged espionage and high treason.

Mme. La Ferriere
New York Bound

Paris, Nov. 4 (AP)—Mme. Madeline La Ferriere, who received a one-year suspended sentence July 39 for shooting Count Charles de Chambrun, was reported today to be on board the liner Normandie en route to New York.

The former French newspaper woman, who testified at her trial that Count de Chambrun, former French ambassador to Italy, had broken up her friendship with Premier Benito Mussolini, was declared recognized boarding a boat train yesterday.

Brussels Delegates
Will Appeal to Japs
To Support Peace Plan

This Decision, Reached by Parley Leaders, Must Be Ratified by Conference at Session Before Action.

SEEK RESULTS

Japan Informed Delegates Represent 9-Power Pact Signers, Not League

Brussels, Nov. 4 (AP)—A committee of the Brussels conference will send an appeal to Japan to join peace negotiations with China.

Such a decision was reached today at a private meeting of leaders of the parley, and must yet be ratified by the full conference—at this afternoon's session.

At the same time, the leaders decided to send a message to Germany asking her to reconsider her rejection of an invitation to the conference.

The project to address a new formal invitation to Japan to participate was abandoned, on the ground that more practical results probably would be achieved through a committee which really could be a committee of mediation.

The Italian delegation said the message to Japan would take the form of a letter in reply to Japan's communication declining to participate in the conference, called under provisions of the nine power treaty which pledges respect for the territorial and political integrity of China.

Sovereign Convocation
The idea is to assure Japan that the Brussels conference is a sovereign convocation under the nine power treaty, and has nothing to do with the League of Nations, Japan, not a league member, contended in refusing to join the deliberations here.

The message to Japan also would try to induce Tokyo to state general terms upon which she would be ready to open peace discussions.

The full conference, after approving institution of the committee, must carefully draw its mandates. Some differences have developed upon this question of powers of the committee, which probably would include two or three members.

The Italian delegate, Count Luigi Aldrovandi-Marescotti, especially insisted upon the wisdom of a tactical approach to Japan.

The present plan is, that when the committee is set, the conference will adjourn until the smaller group has something to report. The American delegation indicated it would remain at Brussels and await developments. The mediation committee, naturally, also would establish contact with the Chinese government, or the Chinese delegation.

May Ask Belgium
The impression prevailed here that Belgium would be asked to sit upon the committee.

Count Aldrovandi-Marescotti told newspapermen, after this morning's session, that the only way to handle parties in conflict is to bring together the two parties and negotiate a peace.

This morning's conference included all the signatories of the nine power treaty, except China, and, of course, Japan. Russia was represented.

WORK OLD TIGER SKIN ADORN MAYOR'S DOOR

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—A dilapidated tiger skin adorned the floor of Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's office today. A fang was missing. To one tattered ear was pinned the following note from First Deputy Police Commissioner Harold Fowler:

"Wounded in 1933—killed in 1937."

The tiger is Tammany's traditional emblem.

Campaign Celebrated

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—The State Agriculture Department celebrated today a 19-year campaign during which tuberculosis in dairy herds has been reduced to less than half of one per cent. More than 400 agriculturists from western United States and Canada were expected to join in the program which featured addresses by State Agriculture Commissioner Holton V. Noyes, representative William T. Byrne and Dr. A. E. Cameron of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Canada, among others.

Pope Rests Today

Vatican City, Nov. 4 (AP)—Pope Pius gave himself over to complete rest today. The pontiff spoke briefly yesterday at the inauguration of a new altar at the basilica of St. John Lateran. Vatican sources said his doctor advised rest after this activity which followed so closely his return from Castel Gandolfo, his summer residence. These same sources added, however, that the Pope was not ill.

Windsors' Welcome May Be Jeopardized if Bedaux,
Foe of Labor, Guides Them*State Republicans
Planning Program
for 1938 Assembly

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—New York Republicans planned today an early "program-building" conference designed to lay the groundwork for the party's control of the 1938 state Assembly.

Returned to Assembly power for the third straight year in Tuesday's election, the party's high command indicated it might meet early next month, possibly in Albany, to discuss a legislative program for its 85 assemblymen.

At the same time, Republican control of the 1938 constitutional convention, called next April to revise the state's organic law, also appeared certain on the basis of late returns from outlying districts, all normally Republican strongholds.

With only 1,079 of the state's 9,084 districts yet to be heard from, the 15 Republican delegates-at-large to the convention led the Democratic bloc, 1,350,974 to 1,233,606. The Republicans already have seated one less than the 85 delegates necessary for a convention majority.

Principal issues for convention debate are reapportionment of the state's legislative districts, departure from the present state financial setup, revisions of the sections dealing with crime and the judicial system, clarification of the powers of the legislature to appropriate funds for relief, old age pensions and unemployment and health insurance, provision for state aid for slum clearance and relaxation of the prohibition against gambling.

85 Republicans
Specifically, the 1938 Assembly will seat 85 Republicans, 61 Democrats and four American Laborites—the latter group represented for the first time. The Republican majority is the largest the party has held since 1920 and nine more than the bare 76 working margin it had this year. Republican leaders were quick to recognize the sweep that also carried with it Republican winners in a majority of the 50-odd mayoral contests.

The vote, said Republican Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Hoek, "demonstrates the people are looking for an effective braking device in this state on unsound and experimental economic and political policies emanating from Washington."

"The people," he added, "also recognize that the 1937 Republican Assembly session was progressive and in accord with the times."

Mayor-Elect Has Own Ideas on City

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—Mayor-elect Thomas L. Holling paid a "good will" visit to the city hall, but within an hour declared, "If I ran a business like this city is being run, it would be bankrupt in six months."

Holling, Independent Democrat, who nosed out his opponent, County Republican Chairman Edwin P. Jaekle by 1,410 votes, went to the city hall at 8:30 a. m. He reported he found not a single decent head and only a few employees on the job.

Holling found a group in the building inspector's office, still with their coats and hats on, discussing the election.

Baltimore, Nov. 4 (AP)—The welcome that will be accorded the Duke and Duchess of Windsor if the American labor-study tour arranged by Charles E. Bedaux includes Baltimore, was jeopardized today by labor groups in the former Wallis Warfield's "home" town.

The Baltimore Federation of Labor, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, last night "warned" organized labor of the city against "slumming parties" professing to help and study labor.

In an unanimously-passed resolution, the group flared at Bedaux's "stretch-out" efficiency system which he has established in some leading industries, expressed strong disfavor of the Duke's friendly visit with Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, and asserted the Duchess exhibited no friendliness to labor while she lived here.

"Immediately preceding this visit (to the United States)," the resolution declared, "the Duke and the Duchess . . . visited Nazi Germany and . . . studied labor under the personal guidance of Dr. Ley (Dr. Robert Ley, leader of Germany's labor front), the man who ordered and ruthlessly directed the destruction of all German free trade unions . . ."

The former king and his wife continued their study of labor problems with Adolf Hitler, the world's most notorious foe of democracy . . .

Denounce Bedaux System
"They have announced that they will study labor in this country under the guidance of Charles Bedaux, whose vicious adaptation of the Taylor system like the labor appeasement program of Germany would apply the stretch-out system to labor in this country . . ."

If the former Baltimore debutant who married a member of a royal family the document said she was "one who while a resident here in no way showed any sympathy for problems of labor or of the poor and needy."

Joseph P. McCurdy, president, in introducing the resolution laid particular stress on labor's antipathy toward Bedaux, whom he termed an "arch enemy" of labor.

"This man, this Charles Bedaux, created more harm and havoc here in America with his speedup and stretch-out system xxx than any other thing that has cropped out against the labor movement in many years," he said.

It was not the first time that Bedaux's efficiency system has drawn the fire of labor's ire. Bedaux terms it the "B plan."

As engines 809 and 814 chugged into the West Shore station Sunday evening, bringing train 528, better known as the milk train, down the old Ulster & Delaware railroad, Wilbur Elmendorf completed 54 years of railroad service, most of which was spent as conductor on the various trains of the old Cornell-Coykendall system.

The retiring conductor was met at the station by Trainmaster F. W. Gleisner, Conductor Emory Crawford, and a host of friends and relatives who had gathered to greet the genial railroadman as he stepped down from his last run.

Wilbur Elmendorf came to Roundout in the late summer of 1883 from his home, located at Olive, searching for work, and through the efforts of some friends, the 17-year old boy obtained a job on the "milk" gang, or section gang, on the old Ulster & Delaware Railroad. He remained on the work train until Old Man Winter closed the Hudson river and cut down traffic on the road, and then returned to the family homestead until spring, when he resumed his position on the section crew.

Shortly after the resumption of work in the spring, Wilbur Elmendorf was offered the opportunity to become a brakeman on the work train, and held this position until the summer passenger business commenced when he was transferred to the job of brakeman on the passenger trains. However, he was on the extra board and for four years he worked in the summer and laid off during the slack winter season. Then in 1887, Mr. Elmendorf obtained a regular position as brakeman on the morning passenger train out of Roundout.

Becomes Conductor
In 1889, just six years after he entered the service, Wilbur Elmendorf received a promotion to the position of conductor, beginning a long term of years as "skipper" of various trains, which terminated Sunday evening in his retirement.

When quizzed concerning his various experiences during his 54 years of railroading, Conductor Elmendorf stated that "I was on a stone train once which made a right lively run down Pine Hill."

The veteran railroader replied negatively when asked if he had ever had charge of a train on the Stony Clove branch when it was narrow-gauge, or if he had ever traveled on old "Number 26," the inspection engine which was, in his opinion, the finest inspection engine in his time.

He did tell of his trips as conductor of the Ontario Fair excursion trains and also recalled a trip he had made as brakeman with Conductor John Francisco, behind Engine No. 10, when "we ran down over the Walkill Valley tracks to Montgomery and then with a pilot engine over the Erie tracks to Goshen to meet Major Cornell who was on the 26."

John Metzger, 9, Puts Out Fire and Saves Lives of Three Younger Brothers

John Metzger, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Metzger, by his nerve and quick action last night, saved the lives of his three younger brothers and probably saved the Metzger home from destruction, when single-handed he extinguished a fire at the Metzger home that had burned the curtains from a large double window and scorched surrounding woodwork.

The Metzger home is located about two miles from the south Ashokan boulevard, on the road leading to Marlborough. The cause of the fire was not ascertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Metzger had gone to call on some neighbors, leaving at home John, his brother, Philip, aged six, and his twin brothers, William and Robert, aged four years. The twins were in bed, but John and Philip were studying their lessons when John

Dr. Sanford Warns Measles Epidemic Is Possible; Seven Cases

Health Officer Says Kingston Has Had No General Outbreak Since 1933 — Cycle Every 3 or 4 Years.

EARLY SIGNS

Parents Asked to Note Early Symptoms and to Advise Board of Health.

Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, warned of a possible outbreak of measles in the city, and said that at the present time there were seven cases reported in Kingston. "Due to the fact that we have had seven cases reported within the last two weeks," he said, "there is a likelihood of many more cases occurring, and it is thought advisable to release information regarding the disease."

Dr. Sanford said that measles was a disease which has a tendency to occur in epidemic form in a community, usually once in every three or four years. Kingston has had no epidemic of measles since 1933.

"It is difficult to check the spread of measles," said Dr. Sanford, "because of its highly contagious nature, especially in the early stages. The early symptoms are a cold in the head, red, inflamed eyes, discharge from the nose and a cough. The eruption or rash does not appear until three or four days from the onset and is a coarse, blotchy rash which first appears on the face and neck and extending down to the chest and over the body."

Early Communication.
"By the time this occurs," said Dr. Sanford, "the child has communicated the disease to all with whom he has come in contact. It is therefore urged that parents watch their children, especially those who have been exposed to the early signs of measles. If signs appear it is advisable to keep the child at home and isolate other children in the family. By this means only can the spread of the disease be checked. Measles is transmitted to others by direct contact only."

"It is particularly dangerous to children under three years of age, because of the danger of pneumonia occurring at this time. Proper nursing and medical care are of the utmost importance in order to avoid complications."

Dr. Sanford said that parents are responsible for reporting cases occurring in their homes to the board of health. If no physician is called, it is required that children having measles be kept at home and isolated until they have entirely recovered. This is usually for about a week, Dr. Sanford said. No placard is placed on the house.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—The position of the treasury November 2: Receipts, $7,915,577.95; expenditures, $24,116,838.91; balance, $2,666,484,538.13; customs receipts for the month, $2,357,275.66; Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $2,019,249,087.06; expenditures $2,629,020,286.24, including $713,556.78 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $619,771,199.18; gross debt, $37,692,127.59, an increase of $911,573.15 over the previous day; gold assets, $12,803,659,014.10, including $1,272,126,636.05 of inactive gold.

One Skeleton—No Takers

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 4 (AP)—A human skeleton shipped from Germany had no friends today. Officials at St. Francis Hospital, to which the bones were consigned, refused to receive the remains because the owner had been cancelled some time ago. They ordered it returned to Germany. U. S. Customs officials inspected the package for a routine inspection last night. "Put him back in his box," Luther L. Starnes, deputy collector of customs, ordered. "Nail on the lid again, too."

Common Council
Meets on Monday
To Canvass Vote

The Common Council will meet as a board of canvassers at the city hall on Monday morning at 10 o'clock to canvass the vote cast in the city on Tuesday. The official report of the canvass two years ago by the council shows that Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk defeated his Democratic opponent, Charles A. Burger, that year by 2,592, which was the largest majority ever recorded, as far as known for any city candidate. The nearest it was approached was the vote cast this year for Attorney Matthew V. Cahill, who was elected city judge, defeating William A. Kuecher by a majority of 2,511, which is the unofficial figure.

Two years ago Mayor Helsenman in the Republican landslide carried every ward in the city, except the Sixth, polling 8,250 votes, or a majority of 2,288 over William B. Martin, his Democratic opponent.

This year Mayor Helsenman carried seven out of the 13 wards in the city, with a majority which, the official count is expected to show as about 809. The mayor carried the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth wards this year.

Political observers comment that the majority given Mayor Helsenman this year was remarkable, considering the fact that the entire Democratic attack was launched against him in the campaign.

Ad for Corn Growers

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—The administration came to the aid today of corn growers disturbed by low prices and arranged to finance 1937 corn loans at the rate of 41 to 50 cents a bushel. The loans, similar to those made by the AAA in previous years, will be handled by the Commodity Credit Corporation with a $75,000,000 advance from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

3 Germans Executed

Berlin, Nov. 4 (AP)—The executioner's ax fell three times today, decapitating three Germans—Peter Hansen, 29; Adolf Rembe, 35, and Roberts Stamm, 37—sentenced to death by the people's court for alleged espionage and high treason.

Mme. La Ferriere
New York Bound

Paris, Nov. 4 (AP)—Mme. Madeline La Ferriere, who received a one-year suspended sentence July 39 for shooting Count Charles de Chambrun, was reported today to be on board the liner Normandie en route to New York.

The former French newspaper woman, who testified at her trial that Count de Chambrun, former French ambassador to Italy, had broken up her friendship with Premier Benito Mussolini, was declared recognized boarding a boat train yesterday.

Counter Offensive

Along the Tientsin-Pukow railway, Chinese asserted a counter offensive was pushing Japanese back to a line 32 miles north of Tsinan, Shantung province capital. (At Peking, a Japanese communiqué said 15 divisions of Chinese troops were in retreat as Japanese advanced toward Tsinan.)

Japanese asserted they had captured Nanchang, a major city gateway to the inland industrial capital, Taiyuan. Chinese, however, declared that only a small Japanese force had penetrated the pass.

Despite deadlocked land battles, Japanese continued with aerial activities. A scout plane flew over Tsinan, Shantung province seat, which previously had been untouched by war.

Twenty bombs were dropped at Sungking, southwest of Shanghai, with a heavy toll of lives and damage to a power plant and a girls' school.

A Japanese spokesman announced that negotiations for proposed neutralization of Nantao, Chinese section south of the French concession, were proceeding satisfactorily.

New Soldiers, Well-trained, Thoroughly Disciplined and Equipped, Give New Impetus to Kai-shek's Legions.*MORALE HIGH

Furious Fighting Observed Along Soochow Creek, Casualties are Heavy.

By JAMES A. MILLER

Shanghai, Nov. 4 (AP)—Thousands of fresh Chinese troops, well-equipped and thoroughly disciplined, poured into Chinese positions today on the front at front.

Added by these reinforcements, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's youthful legions fought furiously against the Japanese veterans.

Ignoring aerial bombing planes and the Japanese heavy artillery, the Chinese time and again lashed out at the Japanese troops.

The result was that Japanese positions along the south bank of Soochow creek became almost untenable.

I found the Japanese had landed at only one place along Soochow creek, where they drove a narrow wedge into the Chinese position south of the creek.

The Chinese morale was exceedingly high despite severe casualties.

After viewing the Chinese in combat, an American military observer remarked: "It is inspiring to see these untutored and half-trained Chinese boys with their inferior equipment and lack of experience standing four square against seasoned Japanese warriors."

"The world can no longer belittle the fighting ability and bravery of the Chinese soldier, but must applaud him, for in sheer heroism he is a match against any soldier in the world."

Park Area Bombarded

Shanghai, Nov. 4 (AP)—Japanese forces trying to drive Chinese south of their Soochow creek positions today bombarded the Jessfield Park area near British army outposts.

As Shanghai allies started to clear, Japanese planes took the air to drop a number of small bombs on the right bank of the Chinese line extending westward from Shanghai.

The Japanese drive suffered a setback, a Chinese spokesman declared, when Chinese artillery destroyed two of three bridges Japanese engineers had thrown over Soochow creek. He added, however, that severe fighting was in progress on the south bank beyond Rubicon village.

Fighting On All Fronts

Spirited fighting was under way on all fronts in China, but neither Chinese nor Japanese were able to achieve clear-cut gains toward major objectives. From first hand observation and from communications of the two nations it appeared that a temporary stalemate had developed.

In North China, the tide of battle shifted back and forth along the Peking-Hankow railway with Chinese declaring their forces had launched an offensive which carried them northward across the Chang river, 17 miles north of Changteh, in northern Honan province. (Japanese at Peking declared the Chinese attack was repulsed.)

Japanese asserted they had captured Nanchang, a major city gateway to the inland industrial capital, Taiyuan. Chinese, however, declared that only a small Japanese force had penetrated the pass.

Highland, Nov. 4.—Miss Xenia Colyer was the guest of Miss Betty Jayne in Gardiner for a Halloween party over the week-end.

Mrs. Jay J. Ennist was a luncheon guest of Mrs. George Juppel in Middlehope on Tuesday and on Friday the guest of Mrs. Stanley Harcourt in Newburgh.

The Officers' Club of the Eastern Star held its November meeting Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fisher.

Miss Henrietta Woolsey entertained members of her Sunday School class with pupils of Mrs. Irving Rathgeb and several other young people at a Halloween party Friday evening. Games belonging to the festival were played and prizes went to Elaine Carpenter and Patrick Lockhart. The decorations were in orange and black and cider and cranberry were served to the Misses Frances Simpson, Elaine Carpenter, Gloria Rhodes, Nancy Dean, Dorine Busch, Jean Seaman, Marie Dubois, Melissa Woolsey, Vivian Parker, Ethel Dimsey, Royana Benson, Marjorie Simpson and Covert Woolsey. Patrick Lockhart, Abram Devo, Doris Dullis, Richard Corwin, George Muller, Kenneth Reddy, Meech Woolsey, Lloyd Bennett.

Miss Elizabeth Salese is chairman of the P. T. A. program for Monday evening at the high school. The subject will be "Self Improvement Through Public Speaking and Use of the Library." This will bring a discussion of recent books, new titles and magazine demonstration of public speaking as taught in Highland High School.

About 50 guests were present Sunday afternoon at the wedding of Miss Ada Mae Burleigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Burleigh, of Plutarch, to Casper T. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. J. S. Haynes. The bride was crowned in white satin and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Her sister, Miss Catherine Burleigh, was bridesmaid and wore a white lace gown and carried white and yellow chrysanthemums. Robert Speedling was best man. After the ceremony the couples went for a short ride and on their return refreshments were served.

Mrs. Andrew W. Lent conducted the devotionals at the meeting of the Evening Reading Circle Monday evening with Mrs. W. D. Corwin. She took Bridge Builders as her theme. The balance of the evening was spent in dressing dolls and making and stuffing animals to be used locally and for a school in Tennessee at Christmas time. The members present included Mrs. Lent, Mrs. Matthew Busch, Mrs. D. S. Haynes, Mrs. Elmer Randall, Mrs. Oliver Tillson, Mrs. Gladys Mears, Mrs. Bertram Dimsey, Mrs. Nelson Woolsey, Mrs. Edgar Boyce, Miss Marie

Roosevelt Reasons For Church Going Given by Pastors

Sunday will mark the first day in the "Go To Church Campaign" being conducted under the auspices of the Kingston Ministers' Association. Years ago Theodore Roosevelt gave nine reasons for going to church, and those reasons are as valid today as then. They follow:

"In this actual world a churchless community, a community where men have abandoned and scoffed at or ignored their religious needs, is a community on the rapid downgrade."

"Church work and church attendance mean the cultivation of the habit of feeling more responsibility for others."

"There are enough holidays for most of us. Sundays differ from other holidays in the fact that there are fifty-two of them every year. Therefore, on Sunday, go to church."

"Yes, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or by a running brook, or in a man's own house just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of fact that the average man does not thus worship."

"He may not hear a good sermon at church. He will hear a sermon by a good man who, with his good wife, is engaged all the week in making hard lives a little easier."

"He will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if he is not familiar with the Bible, he has suffered a loss."

"He will take part in singing some good hymns."

"He will meet, and nod and speak to, good quiet neighbors. He will come away feeling a little more charitably toward all the world, even toward those excessively young men who regard church-going as a soft performance."

"I advocate a man's joining in church work for the sake of showing his faith by his work."

"Church members are urged to attend the services of worship next Sunday. Those who have no church connections are cordially invited to avail themselves of the opportunity of Christian fellowship, and the worship of God, in any of the churches in this vicinity."

DRY BROOK

Dry Brook, Nov. 4.—Several dairy farmers from this section withheld their milk shipments from Margaretville creamery due to strike of Dairy Farmers' Union for several days and all are busy doing their daily churning and laying up a winter's supply of butter.

Ney Todd is taking treatment in Kingston for removal of a cancerous growth from his lower lip. Bill Todd, Rita Haynes, Helen Todd, Frances Todd and Claude Green, Jr., were among those attending the parade and football game at West Point on Saturday.

The Halloween party which was given by the M. E. Sunday School on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Cecil Graham was a decided success. About $2 were present and a good time was had by all. The tables and home were very prettily decorated in honor of the witches and goblins, plenty of which were present in musical attire. Four prizes were awarded to persons having funniest or most unique costumes after which a delicious supper was served. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing of games under the adept leadership of Miss Helen Banker. A new Red and Blue Contest was started by the Rev. Magee and the youngsters are enthusiastic to see which team will win.

Deitrich & Combs, electrical contractors of Fleischmanns, were called to Stewart Farm to erect a pole which had fallen during heavy winds of last week.

Miss Lena Haynes, who underwent an operation for removal of a growth on the side of her face recently, was hurried to Dr. Fessett in Kingston on Tuesday, suffering from an infection. He immediately attended same and placed a drain in and at this writing she is feeling much relieved.

Mrs. George Stewart and daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Gosson, and family, spent Sunday at the home of her son, Clifford Stewart, in Lew. Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingston Gould of New York city spent the week-end at their summer home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gray of Norwich spent several days visiting relatives here last week.

Henry Rosa was the first lucky deer hunter from this place, bringing down a nice four-point buck on Tuesday.

Miladd Swartz and friend of Norwich are spending the deer-hunting season at the home of his brother, Ney Todd, here.

New 'Watchfob' Cars Clutter London Strand

By WILLIAM MCGAFFEIN
AP Feature Service Writer

London—It's like riding a beetle to creep down the Strand in one of the new British 4-cylinder, "watchfob" cars.

These little puddle-jumpers measure only 10 to 12 feet from bumper to bumper, are only about four feet wide and so low that an average-height man almost has to bend double to enter.

There are probably as many cars in the Strand this size, however, as bigger ones.

Like their big brothers, the new model babies aren't much different from last year's. They may be a bit more "swooping" in design but British streamlining is still miles behind American.

Are Roomier
Instead of design, such prosaic points as comfort and safety are getting the ballyhoo.

And it's about time, what with narrow, bad roads and increasing heavy traffic posing a problem which the government is trying to solve without success, so far.

Stronger body, better brakes, clearer vision—these are new features which share honors with "roomier passenger accommodation."

band, when it made its first appearance of the season at the Yale-Cornell football game on Saturday, October 20, in the Yale bowl at New Haven, Conn. This is the second year for Mr. Heinle in the Cornell band, being chosen in his freshman year, to be one of its 80 members. He plays a trumpet. The band featured its serpentine system of formation and also sang "March On, Cornell." Mr. Heinle also has received a scholarship from the president of the University of Cornell for scholastic honors for the next two years.

tion" and "an erect, well-supported driving position with all essential controls to hand."

Cheaper To Run
Midget cars are popular aside from the fact they're easier to worm through traffic jams.

First, they're cheaper, although the cheapest open car, a roadster, costs $560 at the factory, and the cheapest closed car, a sedan, costs $587.50. The British call "em respectively, "two-seaters" and "saloons."

Second, there's a government tax of $3.75 per horsepower. Even though a car rated at 85 horsepower in America is scaled down to 30 here, the tax is high. The baby cars pay a $30 tax on only eight horsepower.

Third, petrol—gasoline to you—costs 37 cents a gallon. And the midgets will go about 40 miles on a gallon.

Fourth, a midget can be insured for legal liability for about $25 compared to the $50 to $75 required for larger cars.

Moreover, the midgets may have an engine only as big as a minute but they'll do from 50 to 60 miles an hour. And, under ordinary care, they're supposed to run for seven years without falling to pieces.

English film producers made their first big bid for Hollywood stars in 1922.

"Why, man, that tastes like those fine American blends we drank
before the war!"

POUR a drink of National's EAGLE for any man who knew the fine whiskies of a generation ago, and . . . "tastes like those pre-war American blends" is the first thing he'll say.

You see, those great American blends are rooted deeply in men's memories. And when a man who was around in the old days, takes his first drink of National's EAGLE . . . and samples that rich character, that smooth individuality, and above all, that exquisite mildness . . . his mind jumps back a generation to those never-to-be-forgotten American blends.

And that is exactly what National Distillers now offers you in National's EAGLE . . . the characteristic 100% American difference in taste . . . the smoo-o-o-th delicacy . . . the pleasing mildness of those fine pre-war American blends.

National's EAGLE is one of the first such blends since pre-war days. For it takes aged whiskies to make great blends . . . aged American whiskies! . . . and not until the Summer of this year have some of the fine American whiskies we wanted to use in this great blend become old enough to make the truly American pre-war type of blends.

Order a drink of National's EAGLE at the bar or restaurant. Or take a bottle home from your liquor store and make the acquaintance of a great American blend! It's a great whiskey . . . American to the last drop . . . every drop of whiskey and every drop of grain neutral spirits in this blend has been distilled here in the United States in our own distilleries.

A great whiskey with a distinctive character that stands up manfully in a highball . . . a silken delicacy that mixes like a charm in a Manhattan . . . a mild suavity that makes a sturdy Old Fashioned or "two fingers" straight a memorable experience.

AUTOS AND PROSPERITY

A count shows 29,000,000 registered motor vehicles in the United States, out of 12,000,000 in the world. This is a ratio of more than 1,000,000 cars to the bottom of the barrel. By 1940, we should be up to 30,000,000. It is clear that the present slump, as we probably shall.

Our prosperity seems curiously bound up with this industry. We spend vast sums of money on automobiles—so much that, by an old-fashioned standard of judgment, it would run us and keep us ruined. Yet the money spent on cars and the services connected with them seems, by a roundabout process, to add to our wealth. And so thoroughly are people "sold" on this principle that there is continual talk of creating new industries—air-conditioning, assembled houses, and so on—so that we can make ourselves richer by spending money on them.

It works, as long as the money we spend comes back to us. The problem is to keep it circulating in the case of motor cars, this problem is simplified by the fact that, with our present volume of cars in use, it takes 4,000,000 new ones every year merely for replacement.

THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE

"Leaders come and go while the people remain," said Josef Stalin in an unusual speech the other day. "It is only the people who are immortal. The rest are transient. Therefore one must know how to value the trust of the people."

All this is true in any country, in the long run. But it sounds strange in a country that has been governed for ages as an absolute monarchy in careless disregard of the people, and latterly as a no absolute oligarchy headed by a man in the name of the people, with the masses actually having nothing to say about it. From leader's words, you might suppose that Russia was a democracy of which it was the elected leader, as a President is in America.

It may become so under the new constitution now being introduced. The face of it, that is the purpose. But the actual expectation is that Stalin will still govern in fact as an absolute ruler, no matter what his title is. Also that the majority leaders of the Communist Party and the nominal heads of the two legislative bodies and the administrative departments will still stand between Stalin and the people, no matter how the voting goes.

Some day Russia may really be a democracy. But since that is the highest form of human government, it takes a long, thorough course of training.

WELLS PRESCRIBES FOR US

H. G. Wells, untiring student of the problems of modern civilization, is here sizing us up again, and what he finds missing in our public life should interest us. He says:

Suppose the President died tomorrow, what have you ready? The thing that held the Roman Empire together, the thing that held England, is the existence of civil service. Even if some body did put some dynamite under Downing Street, and even if we changed a king over night, these things do not change England very much. But comparable happenings might have a great effect on America.

Organized knowledge and civil service are your needs. Democracy has to succeed or humanity has to fail. Yet I am not sure of democracy's surviving. I think to prevent decay you need a great educational effort, and I don't see it being made.

Perhaps he is right. We have available a vast amount of knowledge regarding our land and people.

add our public and private problems, but we don't seem to have "organized" it very well, and therefore we don't get it taught very well, and it doesn't mold the life of our people as it might.

We have what we call "civil service," a public life, but not really to compare with the British service in efficiency, factuality, and ability to carry on in emergency. There is always too much politics in our public service, and the permanent of employees who do the bulk of our public work live in the responsibility and pleasure of their public life.

FOOD FOR DOGS AND BOYS

The anonymous lady in West Orange, N. J., who fed her two dogs and dog food by mistake and then called up the city health board in child's clothing, was undoubtedly alarmed. The health board is always on the alert for food poisoning in children. The lady, however, was not. The health board, however, was not. The lady, however, was not. The health board, however, was not.

It is probably as well in such cases that the human consumer of dog food, I wouldn't know. In too intimate detail just what has gone into it. They might be prepared. But it is doubtful if the health board would be. The health board, however, was not. The lady, however, was not. The health board, however, was not.

And speaking of dog food, here is a curious fact. One of the most often sold dog foods is the "Purina." It is usually cheap because the dogs don't demand for it as human food. But most men say that, when well fed, it's better than the liver which costs far more. So the dogs get a break.

That Body of Yours

OUTDOOR PLAY

As students were taught that the tuberculous chest was flat. Shortly after graduating in medicine I read an article in the Journal of The American Medical Association where a close observer of chests contended that the tuberculous chest was not flat but really round and deep; that the chest, just apparent flat because the shoulders were dropped forward. By drawing the shoulders back the chest would be seen to be really deep in proportion to the width.

It was my privilege for a number of years to examine students in preparatory schools and in a large university and I had ample opportunity to learn that the weak, undeveloped chest—the chest most likely to develop tuberculosis—was deep in proportion to its width; in other words an immature or baby chest.

My advice to all students with deep, narrow chests was that they should play more, as play meant that more air would be needed to supply the big muscles with pure blood. To get this extra air, deep breathing would be necessary and hence more chest development.

About a year ago Dr. S. A. Weisman, Minneapolis, Minn., showed that children from well-to-do homes had the flatter type of chest, were taller and weighed more than children from poorer homes. Other studies made on the shape of the normal and tuberculous chest is deep and narrow, and the healthy chest is flat. Therefore since the children from the poorer districts have on the average the flatter type of chest, one similar to the type often found in the average tuberculous patient, there should be more cases of tuberculosis in the children of the poor districts.

Recently in Minnesota Medicine, Dr. Weisman states that of a total number of 1,171 children in the better Minneapolis school districts there were 42 cases of tuberculosis—3.6 per cent. In a total of 855 children in the poorer districts there were 71 cases—8.3 per cent. That is, there were over twice as many reported cases of some form of tuberculosis from poorer districts, where the deeper types of chest prevailed, than there were from the better school districts.

Poor hygiene, lack of proper food, poor ventilation lead to undeveloped children. The deeper chest is an undeveloped chest, because development brings more width than depth. Outdoor play, next to good food, should "widen" the chest and prevent tuberculosis.

The Characters
 Nina, impulsively married David and is trying to forget her husband. Richard, the lawyer, is a bit of a playboy, but a very good lawyer. Honey, Nina's girl, plump, spoiled, and a bit of a flirt. David, a bright young man, is a bit of a playboy, but a very good lawyer.

Lean On Me

IN SPITE of herself, Nina drew a sharp, a withering breath between her teeth, but Hester just stared at her. Over her pale face, a look of—something—Nina knew so well—came. She was suddenly aware that Hester's face had not been so pale before. She had looked so angry—

After a minute, her lovely new color came back.

Her voice, when she spoke, was as calm as ever, and yet it had an undertone of excitement to it.

"You recognized my voice anyway, didn't you, Nina? And that's doing pretty well, after all these years."

"How could I... forget? The last time I saw you was wearing white. You were wearing soft and white, ever your shoulders, that I could see."

"Tulle. It caught in your studs, while we were dancing."

"Yes, I wanted to be careful, unforgotten it, but you wanted to be forgotten. I was about with a little bit of it, having there."

Hester, looking at her dress, trying to Hester, who was so careful and precise.

Nina looked at her, wondering, and then continued to look. That color in her cheeks... It might have come from the dancing, of course, and yet... And that living light!

"You led the band, Nina... adout, now, you were just the least bit tight! She never forgot the picture they made... walking away together... as the band played... Such A Brave Act

"Hester's eyes were round. 'Hester, of all people! I feel as though I were dreaming,' said Cordelia, in an awed voice. 'Carl, poor Carl!'"

They were all standing in a huddle in the middle of the upstairs hall, at Harmony. It was five in the morning.

Carl had come out and read them Hester's brief note, in a queer, strange voice, and then excused himself. Cordelia had gone to him and taken his hand. He had held on to it tightly.

"To do such a... a brave thing, she must care so very much, that I am not going to try and stop her," he said gravely.

He had looked stunned... but not broken.

Honey and Cordelia and David and Tony, all said various things, in subdued voices... but Nina and Richard only looked at each other, saying nothing at all.

One thought beat, relentlessly, in Nina's brain.

"She had the courage to give up everything... to hurt people! She was brave enough to go away with the man she loved..."

Man About Manhattan

By HELEN MENKEN

(Understudying George Tucker)
 NEW YORK—Well, George, whether or not you're scamp-ering away on a holiday, the show must go on! Although, frankly, I never could see just why! Suppose you had no column today? Suppose I made no broadcast tonight? So what? But, anyway, that show-must-go-on tradition for one held in common by you of the Fourth Estate and us of the theatre. I know you'd pinch-hit for me on the air. And I'm pretty sure, too, that you'd feel fluttering butterfly wings in your tummy when you turn actor, just as I do now in facing this Saturday night paper which I must fill with words for you.

I don't see why we have to fit to each other, George. You know very well that you told me column-ning was easy. You said: "All you do is put one little word after another until the space is filled." But you didn't tell me what words! However, I'm afraid that if it were my turn for vacation, and I was persuading you to get up before the microphone and substitute for me as "Brenda" in "Her Second Husband," I'd tell you there was nothing to it except to speak one little word after another! So that makes us even.

REALLY, though, I don't feel so full of songs, dances and witty sayings today. You see the other evening I somehow lost a pretty valuable pin which also possesses great sentimental value for me. George, I've been wondering how in the world you ever became a columnist. And why. Won't you write a story about it one day? I became an actress "strictly from hunger." We were pretty poor. So I went to work when I was four. Believe it or not, I was a Shakespearean actress at four. I was "Mustard Seed" in "A Midsummer Night's Dream!"

BUT you know the way it is with we Shakespearean actors. We have to eat. So a season or so later I was in a movie commercial theatre. I was a wave in the Hippodrome show. It was a sea spectacle, and I was one of the "actors" who ran up and down under the canvas waters to make winking waves. They must certainly have been very sad sea waves! By the way, George, do you know that Eugene O'Neill also started his career as a wave? It was in the Count of Monte Cristo, which his father owned and played for years. I imagine that after your first few hundred columns you sort of got the hang of it. But after an actor's first few hundred portrayals of a part, it grows increasingly difficult.

The Bears' Birthday

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE ducks put their presents away, and hurried up to Willy Nilly's for the bears had been sent to their care.

"I hope they'll give us some jelly," said Jelly Bear.

"I'd like some honey," said Honey Bear.

"I'd like almost anything," growled Jupiter and Blacky Bear and the cub, Chubby, in turn.

In the meantime the other Puddle Muddlers were hurriedly getting their presents together, and now they were on their way up to the cave.

"Many happy returns of the day!" they shouted.

The bears stood outside their cave and Willy Nilly thought with pride and joy how well they looked, how strong. He knew they would enjoy their birthday. They were always hungry at this time of year.

First Willy Nilly handed Jelly Bear a jar of jelly, and then he handed Honey Bear a jar of honey.

"Just what I wanted," growled Jelly Bear.

"Just what I wanted," murmured Honey Bear happily as she put her snout right through the paper and started eating.

"I've brought you a lot of nuts," Christopher told Chubby.

"And I've brought you some corn I had saved," Top Notch told Jupiter Bear.

"I've brought you some preserved cherries Willy Nilly let me have from the pantry," Rip told Blacky Bear.

"I've brought all of you some grass from my meadow," said Sweet Face. "It will make your pillows softer and your dreams sweeter. I hope." And the lamb's face wore a sweet expression.

Tomorrow—"Rip's Birthday!"

Science Replaces The Six-Gun In Fight With Cattle Rustlers

By ROBERT GEIGER

AP Feature Service Writer

Denver—Six-gun methods having failed, western cattlemen are turning to science to aid them in their fight against the rubber-tired cattle rustler.

Electric eyes, charged fences, airplanes and the radio are being discussed as weapons against outlaws who cost the high-bred, big-batted cattlemen thousands of dollars each year.

"Rustling today is a greater menace in the west than it ever was," says Dr. B. F. Davis, secretary of the Colorado Stock Growers and Feeders Association. The cause: High cattle prices.

"We aren't dealing now with gangs who were handy with a bar and a hot brandling iron," Davis explains. "We have to contend with toughs from the east organized into gangs and equipped with high speed automobiles, rifles, skinning knives and plenty of nerve."

Sell to Butchers

"With ranges fenced and paved highways running through the cattle country," Davis explains, "it is a simple job for a couple of men in a fast car to drive to a pasture, throw a spotlight into the face of a steer, blind him, and then shoot him down."

"They skin these animals and drive two or three hundred miles to a crooked butcher who fences the meat, selling it over his counter," Davis says.

Cattle associations are offering rewards, western states are tightening cattle inspection laws and peace officers are forming interstate units to put a stop to the rubber-tired thieves.

Radios Now Used

But this hasn't been entirely effective. So Davis hopes to find an "electric eye" and charged fences which might do the trick.

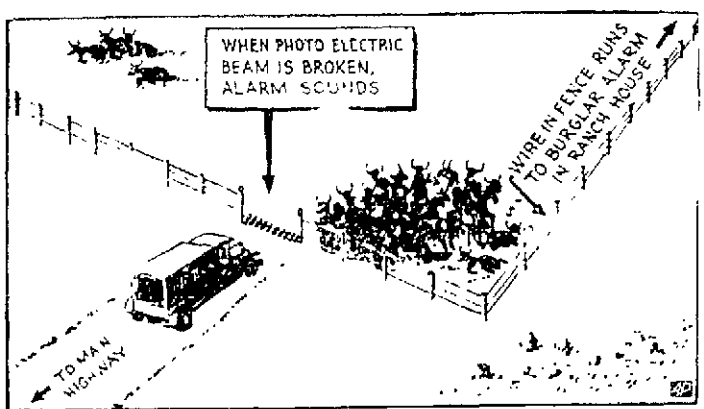

Davis says he has in mind an instrument of the present "electric eye" type, which casts a beam from a sender to a receiver, which would send an alarm when the beam was broken. Anyone passing through an entrance to a range would break the beam.

A charged fence is even more practical, Davis believes. If the wire were cut, the circuit would

PRELUDE TO STOLEN BEEF

Using trucks at night, the modern rustler shoots the cow or steer in the bright glare of the headlights of his car, dresses his kill on the way to market. These men, not rustlers of course, demonstrate how that's done.

PROPOSED RUSTLER ALARM

Details of how the photo-electric eye rustler alarm might work are shown in this artist's sketch. The light beam thrown across the road at or very near the fence would be broken when a car or person passed through, setting off the alarm in the ranch house.

be broken and an alarm would sound at the ranch house, which might be a mile or two away.

Radios now are being used by peace officers to warn authorities of adjoining counties when there has been a cattle raid.

Several ranchers in the west also have airplanes to patrol large segments of range country.

"The rustling is not confined to cattle. Hogs, sheep, even turkeys are being 'taken for a ride'."

Canadian Youth Picked Up in City Held for Sentence

Colin Campbell, 19, and William Sutherland, 20, both of St. James, Canada, were picked up on a technical charge of vagrancy on Wall street last night. According to the police the youths said they were in this country illegally, crossing from Cornwall, Canada, into this country. The youths hitch-hiked from Lake Placid to Kingston.

This morning in police court Judge Culliton deferred imposition of sentence until Saturday. It is expected that the police department will take up the question of the youths being in this country with the immigration authorities. William Moore, of Green street, and Franklin Bailey, of Spring street, were sentenced to three days each in jail. They had been arrested on charges of public intoxication. John Witkowski, of Hanratty street, arrested on a similar charge was fined $3.

Two Boys on Bike Collided with Car

Alfred Wozien, of 17 Adams street, and George Barringer, of 106 1/2 North Front street, riding a bicycle were in collision with an auto driven by Frank Hornbeck, of 132 Jansen avenue, about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. Both youths sustained bruised ankles. Mr. Hornbeck in reporting the accident to the police department stated he was turning from Broadway into East O'Reilly street when the collision occurred.

Gerber Thanks His Supporters

Despite defeat in the election, Mace Gerber, Republican candidate for alderman in the sixth ward, Democratic stronghold, today has an ad in The Freeman expressing appreciation to all his supporters in the ward, and to all his friends who manifested interest in his campaign.

Gerber concludes his card of appreciation with thanks to his opponent, Walter Donnarumma, alderman-elect, for a clean contest and best wishes for success in office, showing good sportsmanship to the end.

When Senator George R. Fearon spoke in Kingston at the big Republican rally in the Municipal Auditorium he paid one of the grandest tributes ever heard at any political gathering to Mace Gerber, and urged his election as a capable candidate.

Fifty thousand dairy cows in New York state are sent to slaughter each year because of Bang's disease, says C. G. Bradt of the New York state college of agriculture. He bases these figures on cattle disposals by members of dairy herd improvement associations, which indicate that about four per cent of the cows in these herds are sold for slaughter because of abortion and sterility which is probably caused by Bang's disease.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or flu are often caused by tired kidneys—and are relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day of about 3 pints of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filter don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start caggy backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep, lack of energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

New Technique In Auto Sales

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—A young matron—or perhaps she was a stenographer—gazed, fascinated, at a whirling model of a knee-action wheel at the National Automobile Show here.

In years past, she would have saved her "Ohs" and "Ahs" and her questions for bright colors, trim fittings and downy upholstery.

Her absorption this year with action exhibits—more of which were shown than in any previous year—signaled the success of a new technique in automobile selling at a show which broke no attendance records but which saw "satisfactory buying."

There was little boasting about speed, pick-up and get-away, little bragging about the superiority of one car over its sleek, shiny competitor on the four floors of vast Grand Central Palace.

More than ever, the industry stressed its research activities, its efforts to make automobiles safer, easier and simpler to operate.

On every floor, crisp-voiced lecturers stood with schoolroom pointers in their hands showing prospective buyers what they would find beneath the slim hoods and roomy, low-slung bodies of their 1938 cars.

Another tribute to the new trend came from the 1,500 or more of them who stood in line each day for the opportunity of taking various free safety tests offered—a demonstration which Byron C. Foy, chairman of the show committee of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, called the outstanding feature of the show.

And latent interest forecast "another good year in 1938," if the experience of past years holds true, Foy declared.

Further indications of sales prospects will come from the 44 cities in which the automobiles being removed from the Palace today will be shown during the next three weeks at smaller shows, he said.

Boy Scout Drive Reports Progress

The Boy Scout finance campaign is progressing very well throughout the entire area and it is expected that before the next goes by all the communities will have finished their task, and the reports today indicate that many more towns than in the past are reaching and exceeding their goals.

In the Kingston district, Chairman Freer is urging all men who still have cards in their possession to turn them in to the scout office at the earliest possible date so that the local campaign may be finished.

During the past week three new Scout units have been added to the council's activities: A Neighborhood Patrol unit was organized in Plattburgh and also in West Saengerles, and the organization of a new troop has been completed at Mt. Tremper. This troop will be known as Troop No. 65, and sponsored by the Mt. Tremper Grange. The following men are members of the troop committee: Reginald E. Every, Ernest Gardner, the Rev. Aug. Plaus, Bert Winnie and Frank Carle. The scoutmaster is Kenneth Warren and the assistant scoutmaster is George Byron, Jr. Many of the troops throughout the two counties are busy now assisting in the preparation of Christmas cheer, particularly in the collection and repairing of toys and other similar activities. The next meeting of the Kingston District Court of Honor has been set for Friday evening, November 19. The place of meeting and hour will be announced later. One of the features of the evening will be the showing of the National Jamboree Movies, which have been developed by the official jamboree photographers.

Tidewater Oil Meeting.
The Tidewater Associated Oil Co. met last evening at the Palestine Hotel, Newburgh, with more than 100 members. Kingston and vicinity was well represented with about 25 members present. R. H. Casey of Albany, who is sales manager of New York state, and E. F. McCabe of New York city, division manager, addressed the meeting.

Gospel Fellowship Meeting.
There will be a monthly Gospel Fellowship meeting on Friday evening, November 5, at Eagle's Nest, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Huthstetter. All are welcome.

Social Party.
The regular Friday evening social party will be held tomorrow evening at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. The public is invited.

Inter-Fraternal Meeting Tonight

There will be a meeting of the Inter-Fraternal Organization tonight at 8 o'clock in Knights of Columbus Hall, Broadway and Andrew street, to make arrangements for the winter program of sports events and games with all of the clubs participating. Clubs belonging to the Inter-Fraternal Association are Knights of Columbus, Elks, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Junior Order of American Mechanics, Masons and Moose.

MANN & GROSS REPORT REAL ESTATE SALES

Among recent sales consummated through the agency of Mann and Gross is part of the Minard farm at Springtown. This parcel comprising a hillside and level land overlooking the Wallkill Valley and commanding a view of New Paltz consists of 80 acres. It has been conveyed by the Hudson Counties Estates to Joseph Amato, of New York city. Mr. Amato has taken possession and plans are now being drawn for the erection of a year round residence. The plans call for a structure half native granite and the upper story frame. It will be located on the east side of the Shawangunk Mountain, facing the south towards New Paltz.

The Homeowners Co-Operative Savings and Loan Association sold a bungalow at Pine Hill to Sadie Cohen, of Brooklyn.

The Hudson Counties Estates sold the 155 acre farm near Lexington to John J. Shrober and wife, of Floral Park, L. I. This property borders the Schoharie river for about a half mile and runs back to an elevation of about 2,000 feet. The dwelling has been recently improved and modernized. The new owners have possession and are planning to make it their permanent home in the future.

Mann and Gross also leased with option to purchase the large dairy farm of Otto Puchland at Tillson to Mr. and Mrs. Haegler, of Callicoon Center, N. Y. They have taken possession, improved the buildings and are now operating a dairy.

A contract has been signed for the conveyance of the old homestead property on the mountain near Lexington, owned by Dr. A. O. Persons, of Lexington, to Ruth Forman, of Brooklyn. Miss Forman plans to take possession this week and use the property as a week-end and summer place.

Schmeling-Louis Fight in Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 4 (AP).—The Chicago Daily Times said today it had learned from Joe Louis' co-managers that his defense of the heavyweight boxing championship against Max Schmeling next June would be staged in Chicago.

Italian Black and John Toborovich, Louis' handlers, told the paper, it said, that they demanded the fight be held here when they signed with Promoter Max Jacobs recently.

Their reason was the anti-Nazi boycott in New York which depressed the first Louis-Schmeling gate in June, 1935, at the Yankee Stadium, the paper continued.

The Times added Jacobs would offer the park board $100,000 flat rental for use of Soldier Field.

Governor Names F. D. McCurn

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP).—Governor Lehman announced today the appointment of Francis D. McCurn, of Syracuse, as State Supreme Court justice, for the fifth judicial district.

Our Growing Population.
The following births have been reported to the Board of Health: Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Van Wagenen, of RFD 3, Kingston, a son, Charles John, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester O. Ferguson, of Port Ewen, a daughter, Doris Ruth, at Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Lowry, of 133 Abel street, a son, Ronald Irving, at Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Slater, of 19 Ann street, a daughter, Shirley Blanche.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mehm, of 88 Grant street, a son, John Lawrence, Jr., at Benedictine Hospital.

Boston's New Mayor

James M. Curley, victorious opponent of former Mayor James A. Curley, dashed this victory smile when returns showed he had been elected mayor of Boston. Three other candidates complicated the balloting.

State Republicans Planning Program

who, with Postmaster General James A. Farley, state and national Democratic chairman, directed the party campaign, termed the Republican Assembly sweep a "calamity for progressive legislation."

The governor said defeat of New York city Democratic assemblymen was "caused by a division in the ranks of the friends of liberal legislation. The four American Labor Party assemblymen are from New York city."

To Seek Last Tribe
Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 4 (AP).—Dr. Hiler Ingstad, Norwegian ethnologist, set out today for the Sierra Madre Mountains of Sonora, Mexico, where he hopes to find the last primitive Indians. A band of Apaches, he said, fled into the Sierra Madre about the time of Geronimo, southwestern Apache leader. Their few contacts with civilization since 1886 have been warlike. "No white man is known to have contacted them," said Dr. Ingstad. "They are the last primitive Indians belonging to this country."

Appreciation

It is my sincere desire to express appreciation to my supporters in the 6th Ward and all my friends who manifested an interest in my campaign.

To my opponent—Thanks for a clean contest, and best wishes for success in office.

MACE GERBER

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FIFTH WARD

I hereby extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to the voters of the Fifth Ward for their support and cooperation in sending me to the Board of Supervisors. I will do my best and will at any time listen to the advice of any of the voters of the ward I represent.

Sincerely yours,
MATTHEW J. LENIHAN,
Superior Elect of Fifth Ward

TO THE VOTERS OF THE EIGHTH WARD

I wish to thank all who gave me their support and worked in my behalf for the office of Supervisor. Although defeated I appreciate your help and kind consideration.

KARL P. DUESCHER,

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Nov. 4.—The Workers' Conference will be held in the Methodist Episcopal Church house at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Under the leadership of the pastor, the teachers and adult members of the Sunday school and any others interested will begin a series of discussions centered around the subject, "How to Improve the Sunday Church School." The discussions will follow suggestions prepared by the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In its general character, it will be similar to the Leadership Training classes held annually in the Kingston High School, although, in the nature of the case, it will be geared directly to the local situation. The discussion will be preceded by a period of devotion. The conference will be through by 8:30 p. m. All Squash, bu. 75-100. The discussion will be postponed to later in the school year.

A large attendance is expected at the card party which the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Port Ewen Fire Department will hold in the firehouse this evening. The public is invited to attend. Choir rehearsal will be held in the Methodist Episcopal Church at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The consistory of the Reformed Church will hold a card party in the church hall on Thursday evening, November 18.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

SOCIETIES • CLUBS • PERSONALS

Many Participate
At Musical Society

The November meeting of the Musical Society of Kingston was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Forman on Albany avenue. During the business session which was presided over by Miss Eva Clinton, the president, reports of the Federation Day of the New York state Federation of Music Clubs held in New York last week were given by Mrs. Henry Millon, Jr., Miss Helen Turner and Mrs. Raymond Rigall.

The program for the evening was in charge of Mrs. Mortimer B. Downer and Mrs. Henry P. Dunbar. Mrs. Downer, who read the paper, gave a description of music derived from the love of home and country. As an opening illustration, the entire group of members sang "America the Beautiful."

The extolment of the homeland is deep within the hearts of many people, especially with the war torn lands of Europe. In the illustration which followed, the love of home was used in the narrow sense of native surroundings, with two national hymns, with their characteristic national feeling and distinctly religious feeling sung by a group consisting of Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteil, Mrs. Catherine McCannons, Mrs. John MacKinnon, Mrs. Raymond Rigall and Miss Caroline Port. The illustrations were the English "God Save the King," and the Russian national hymn. Each of these national hymns are found in Protestant hymn books. Miss Ethel Maisterstock was the accompanist.

The nostalgic songs, with their fervent longing for home by an exile were illustrated by Mrs. Dunbar who sang "My Heart's in the Highlands" and a Syrian folk song. She was accompanied by Miss Helen Turner.

The revolutionary, millennial songs are musically characterized by an unusually great range, having been composed in the time of war, when voices are emotionally raised in pitch. The illustrations are sung by the members in the first group were the French "Marseillaise," and the American "Star Spangled Banner." In the "Marseillaise," the first verse was sung in French by Mrs. Wolfersteil with the group singing two verses in English.

A more sophisticated application of the theme was illustrated by Mrs. Walter T. Tremper, who played two Viennese marches by Drechsler and Jurek and the Chopin "Polonaise Militaire." Hayden's "Melody," which has become the Austrian National Anthem, followed by a charming arrangement of "Old Folks at Home," by Kreisler, were played on the violin by Mrs. Florence Cumberley, accompanied by Miss Turner.

The Russian art songs, with their intense love for the native land were illustrated in two vocal selections, "By the Balakireff," sung by Miss Turner, who accompanied herself and "A Song of Russia," by Rachmanoff, sung by Mrs. Dunbar, accompanied by Miss Turner.

The last number was a chorale from the shores of the Baltic sea, "Finlandia," by Sibelius, played as a piano solo by Miss Ethel Maisterstock.

To conclude the program the club members again joined in singing "America."

A guest at the meeting was Mrs. Bertram B. Bishop of Jefferson avenue. Hostesses for the social which followed were Mrs. Lloyd LeFevre and Mrs. John I. Snyder.

Convention Hostess

Mrs. Harry P. Van Wageningen. Mrs. Harry Parker Van Wageningen of John street, director of the third district of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs will be the hostess at the 43rd annual convention which will convene at the Hotel Ten Eck, Albany, on Monday and continue through Friday.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Myer of Marbleton announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Vilma Myer, to Arthur H. Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Connor of Kripplush. The wedding will take place in the near future.

Atharhacton Meeting

The Atharhacton Club met Wednesday afternoon at the Huntington, with Mrs. Carleton S. Preston the hostess. Mrs. Preston, who also had the paper for the afternoon, reviewed "All Passion Spent," by Victoria Sakville West. Preceding the meeting the hostess served tea.

Kushner-Lifshin Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Kushner, of 349 Washington avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Freda Kushner, to John Lifshin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myer Lifshin, of 74 Albee street. The wedding will take place on Sunday, November 28, at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

The Coterie to Meet Saturday

The number Miss Gratten appeared in was "Le Conquérant de Pérouche," and also in "Fanciulla di Brindisi" and "Ballet Fantastique" of the final gala performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harten, who have been spending the summer at their home in Monticello, have returned to Kingston, where they will be the guests during the winter months of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Van Deke Patten, of Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Cordes, of Lafayette avenue, and Miss Florence Cordes, of Lindside avenue, spent Wednesday in New York city.

Mrs. Marion Teller, of Fair street, is spending a week in Detroit, Mich., as the guest of her son, Robert Ely.

Adaptability Led to Use of Gold and Silver Coins

The selection of gold and silver for the national currency purposes was due to their adaptability, says the Indianapolis News. In addition to their being desirable, they possess the following qualities demonstrated to be requisite to a just and equitable medium of value: Relative scarcity, portability, containing large value in a small bulk, durability, long life (or uniformity), divisibility, and the being divided into small parts and again united without appreciable loss.

The use of the metals as money by weight proved a cumbersome process, and a coming device was introduced, probably by the Greeks about 900 B. C. The bank check came into use as a means of saving the transfer of coined money. The bank note is an evolution of these preceding forms, being a promise of the bank to pay the specified amount on demand. The Bank of Sweden is credited with having first issued this form of money in 1668.

The security of gold and silver, the need of bills of exchange and of a money more convenient to carry, and the issuance of government credits forced on bankrupt nations brought about the use of paper money in European countries. Colonial America early adopted this medium of exchange from the English.

Paper money in America first was issued by Massachusetts in 1690. The object was not to supply any supposed lack of a medium for trade, but to satisfy the demands of some clamorous soldiers. The first issue of money under authority of the Continental congress was dated May 10, 1775, but not placed in circulation until the following August.

Pipes Reveal Character,
Notes London Authority

The briar pipe has nothing to do with briars as we know them, but is a corruption of the word "bruyere," a kind of giant white heather which grows on the island of Corsica, writes a correspondent in London Answers Magazine.

Curiously enough, the briar owes its popularity to Napoleon, who delighted smoking. After his death, tourists visited his high place on the island. One of them lost his meerschaum pipe and borrowed a rough briar from a peasant. He found it smoked so pleasantly that he took a number of briars back to France with him, where they soon became popular.

In the Far North the Eskimos make pipes from walrus ivory, which they carve beautifully with little figures. In the East the Chinese use a hollow bamboo stem, while the Australian aborigines actually make a pipe from an emu's leg.

Almost every nation has its own peculiar pipes, and they are worth studying for they throw some curious sidelights on national characteristics.

Queen of Ancient Roads

The Appian way, built in 312 B. C., was the queen of all ancient roads, notes a writer in the Los Angeles Times, and was used as a highway with traffic for all the known eastern world. Its sides were flanked with the tombs of the Scipios, Claudius, Mulo, Livio, Seneca and other illustrious Romans. Scipio Africanus in 201 B. C. entered Rome by this road. Cicero was welcomed here with honors on his return from exile in B. C. 57, the Apostle Paul entered Rome over its pavements and Titus after he had destroyed Jerusalem was received with triumph along the Via Appia. This road was 350 miles long, marked with the earliest milestones. From it we come to the Baths of Caracalla, and soon pass over the ground where the Catagambis burrow below, till we reach the old Church of San Sebastiano built by Constantine in 313 A. D., and then to the Colosseum, where is obtained a wonderful view over the Roman Campagna and of the Claudian aqueducts which still supply Rome with water.

Political Red Herring

A red herring is a herring that has a red color through being cured by smoking. The Oxford dictionary has a quotation dated 1688, concerning the employment of a red herring in fox hunting: "The trailing or dragging of a dead cat or fox (and) three or four miles and then laying the dogs on the scent." Just as a dog's scent may be led astray by drawing a red herring across the track, so the public may be misled in a false issue intended to divert attention from important questions.

Captain Kidd Parson's Son

One of the most celebrated pirates of all time was the son of a Scotch minister, according to the Standard American Encyclopedia. He was William Kidd. Kidd took to sea and established himself in New York City as a landowner and shipper. Commissioned by William III in 1697 to suppress piracy, he met with mutiny and discord on the way to Madagascar and turned pirate himself, to prey on commercial ships. He was tried, found guilty and hanged in London in 1701.

Palms Answer Your Three Big Questions

The way Madge does it, palmistry is as easy as it's exciting. "Yes," she says mysteriously to Jim, "in your palm I'll find the answers to three big questions: What will your romance be? Will you be lucky? What sort of person are you?"

The answer to the first question Madge finds in Jim's Marriage Line—that little horizontal line below the little finger—and in the Heart Line, the top line across his palm.

Jim's Marriage Line, you can see, is deep and unbroken. So his romance will be the lasting kind. And his Heart Line, which starts on the mount below the first finger, says he's both loyal and ardent.

If the Heart Line stretched right across the palm, jealousy would threaten Jim's romance. Jim's luck? Madge looks at the Fate Line—the long vertical line which runs up to his second finger. As it's broken, Jim's going to meet obstacles. But still, that lucky star below the little finger shows he'll make the most of his talents, so let's congratulate Jim.

Now for Jim's real and secret self. That large mount below the first finger shows he's a bossy streak. But the square shape of his hand says he's reliable, the supple thumb says he's adaptable; so—balancing one point against another as real palmists do—Madge finds Jim a regular fellow.

Do your own lines, mounts and fingers have different quirks? In our 40-page booklet, Palmistry and Astrology, the secrets of palmistry are clearly explained. Read your own palm easily and your friend's palms, too.

Entertaining The Bridge Club

Planning For Eight

Cream Of Asparagus Soup
Ripe Olives, Roasted Cheese Wafers
Jellied Fruit Molds
Hot Rolls
Plum Jelly
Ice Cream
Coffee

Cream Of Asparagus Soup
1½ cups asparagus
1 cup water
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons minced onions
2 tablespoons minced carrots
1 tablespoon parsley
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 cup milk
1 cup walnuts
1 cup cream

Let the asparagus, water, celery, onions, pimientos and parsley simmer for 20 minutes in a covered pan. Press through a coarse strainer and add to the butter which has been mixed with the flour. Add the seasonings and milk. Cook slowly and stir frequently until the mixture is very hot and slightly thickened. Serve in cups and top with whipped cream.

Princess Pudding

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup butter
1 cup peach juice
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup canned peaches

Mix all ingredients in a large frying pan. Allow to boil for two minutes. Cover with batter.

Batter

1½ cups pastry flour
1 cup milk
1 cup sugar
1 cup vanilla
1 cup almond extract
1 cup butter, melted

Mix ingredients. Beat for one minute. Pour over peaches. Bake in the frying pan for thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Let stand five minutes. Carefully unmold, peach side up. Top with hard sauce and serve fresh.

Smoke Descends Slowly

Though Denser Than Air

Smoke consists of myriads of small solid particles suspended in the air. These particles are denser than air, yet they settle only with extreme slowness because of two facts, writes Dr. Thomas M. Beck in the Chicago Tribune.

A falling body soon reaches a speed at which its weight is balanced by the air resistance opposing its motion. This resistance is roughly proportional to the amount of surface exposed, and the smaller the body, the greater the ratio of surface to weight and the slower its rate of fall through the air.

Smoke particles usually are so small that their rates of fall hardly cause them to pick up electrical charges, and the mutual repulsion of these charges prevents the particles from coalescing into larger particles which would fall more quickly.

It is a surprising fact that these smoke particles are much larger to remove from the air than are the far smaller molecules of a gaseous impurity. Air can be freed from foreign gases by bubbling it through the right kind of absorbing liquid or by passing it through a loosely packed mass of a porous solid absorbent. These methods frequently fail with smokes.

The reason for this difference lies in the fact that the small, light gas molecules are in a state of constant motion, and travel at incredible speeds which quickly bring them into contact with the absorbing material. On the other hand the far heavier smoke particles drift very slowly through the rest of the gas, and only a few of them have time to reach the absorbent.

King Cobra Most Feared,
Also Most Intelligent

The king cobra, or hamadryad, of Burma, is the largest as well as the most deadly of poisonous snakes. Its average length is twelve feet, and individuals have been known to measure eighteen feet, which is three times the length of the common "hooded horror" cobra of India. The king cobra's intelligence, quick temper, extraordinary agility, and lethal poison makes it the most dreaded of all snakes, asserts Guy Murchie, Jr., in the Chicago Tribune.

The spectacular appearance of the king cobra and its terrifying reputation are enough in certain parts of Burma to cause it to be hunted by big-game hunters much as is the tiger in India and the lion in Africa. The only difference is, as Adventure Gordon Sinclair once wrote: "You don't hunt the hamadryads. They hunt you. If you go out to track down a tiger the element of surprise is all yours. You ambush the tiger and smash him down. But you can't put a hamadryad on the spot; the surprise element is all his. He sees you coming and either lies in ambush for you or comes for you like a spluttering skyrocket."

According to one authority, the king cobra is the most intelligent of all snakes. It is one of the very few snakes, for instance, that realizes when in captivity that it must rely on its keeper for food. A slight vibration at the door of a king cobra's cage is enough to bring the snake at full speed to the crack, where it will explore up and down the frame with flapping tongue in anticipation of receiving food. And it will invariably lift its head and anxiously look about at feeding time, even before the keeper has put in his appearance.

When a cold strikes . . .
don't take needless risks

Treat Colds
This PROVED Way

WHY experiment? Vicks VapoRub has been doubly proved for you . . . proved by everyday use in more homes than any other medicine of its kind; further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (See full details in each VapoRub package.)

Only Vicks give you such proof. VapoRub is the direct external treatment. No "dosing"—no risk of stomach upset.

Simply massage it on the throat, chest, and back (as illustrated). Relief starts almost at once. You begin to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub starts working direct through the skin like a potent. At the same time, its medicated vapors—released by the warmth of the body—are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break local congestion.

Repeat treatment at bedtime. After a restful sleep comes VapoRub keeps right on working, hour after hour. Often, by morning, the worst of the cold is over.

"For high, handsome meringues—use quick-dissolving Jack Frost!"

CHOCOLATE MERINGUE PIE

(Makes a 10-inch pie)

3 squares unsweetened chocolate, shaved
2½ cups milk
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup Jack Frost Granulated Sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten

2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon vanilla
1 baked pie shell, 10-inch

For Meringue
3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons Jack Frost Granulated Sugar

1. Add chocolate to milk. Heat in double boiler.
2. Melt chocolate. Beat with rotary egg beater.
3. Combine flour, Jack Frost Granulated Sugar, salt and beaten egg yolks. Add small amount of chocolate mixture. Blend well. Return to double boiler.
4. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly.
5. Remove from heat. Add butter. Cool. Add vanilla.
6. Meringue. Add salt to egg whites. Beat until foamy. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly until stiff. Jack Frost, being quick-dissolving, blends with egg whites without breaking the air bubbles.
7. Pour chocolate filling into pie shell. Cover lightly with meringue, touching crust on all sides.
8. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 12 to 15 minutes, or until delicately browned. Serve cold.

Supervisors Meet To Canvass Vote Recorded Tuesday

The Ulster county Board of Supervisors met today at noon for the purpose of organizing as a county board of canvassers to canvass the vote recorded Tuesday.

The board is meeting this year a week earlier than usual to make its canvass because of a request from the secretary of state, who requested that the vote for congressmen in this district be ascertained as soon as possible after election so that the report from the several counties of this congressional district may be reported to the State Board of Canvassers for official canvass.

As soon as the vote in the district is canvassed a certificate of election will be issued to the elected officer so that the congressman may take his seat at Washington for the special session which has been called by the President for November 15.

The usual custom has been to meet as a county board of canvassers a week after election.

Since a vacancy exists in this congressional district due to the death of Congressman Goodwin and the election held to fill a vacancy, it is desirable of seating the new congressman as early as possible at the special session of Congress.

Once the board convenes as a board of canvassers today it will continue to sit and canvass the entire vote. This job is a huge one this year since under an amendment effective this year the County Board of Canvassers will for the first time canvass the vote cast for all town offices as well as for the county offices.

Roosevelt to See LaGuardia Today In New York City

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt, heading southward toward Washington, arranged to see New York's fiery little Republican-Fusionist mayor, Fiorello H. LaGuardia, in the big city today.

LaGuardia, re-elected Tuesday over Jeremiah T. Mahoney, a Democrat, had the only appointment with the President during a three-hour stop at the White House party at Roosevelt's 65th street town house.

Mr. Roosevelt, however, expected to talk with his chief political adviser, Postmaster General James A. Farley, before the day's end. Farley, who participated in the New York mayor's campaign as Mahoney's supporter, planned to ride the presidential train back to Washington.

Visiting New York for the first time since his Madison Square Garden speech in the 1936 campaign, the President arranged to spend most of his three hours in the city on personal affairs.

After the stop there, the President's schedule called for departure from Jersey City for Washington late this afternoon.

Murray Leads Canva's Board

At the noon meeting of the Board of Supervisors which was convened as a county board of canvassers by J. Charles Snyder, president of the Board of Elections, the oath of office was taken by Edward H. Murray, supervisor of Shawangunk, who was selected as the chairman of the Board of Canvassers and also by the members present, committees were appointed by Mr. Murray and the board adjourned until 2 o'clock when the actual canvass of the vote was to be taken up.

John B. Sterley acted as clerk of the board.

Mr. Murray's selection as chairman of the county board of canvassers was unanimous and Supervisor Robert Snyder of Saugerties and Supervisor Harry Hulsar of the town of Kingston were named a committee to escort Mr. Murray to the chair.

Securities Show More Strength

The only apparent effect, if any, on securities, of the elections Tuesday was a stronger tone in state, municipal and county bonds; government bonds, also, were firm. Cause, apparently, defeat of labor-sponsored candidates in the mid-west industrial cities and some indication of a trend toward economy on the part of voters as they rejected numerous bond issues and some proposals for municipal ownership. In Detroit, where the CIO candidate was defeated by a majority of more than 100,000, dispatches say that on the local market municipal obligations apurted an average of more than two points.

In New York Detroit issues advanced as much as a point and dealers revealed that sell orders which they had held for several days had been canceled.

Out of a total of $195,000,000 of new bond issues passed upon by voters Tuesday incomplete returns show that for every dollar's worth approved another two were rejected. New York state's approval of a $40,000,000 issue for construction of institutions accounted for almost four-fifths of the bonds approved.

Bonds were the only bright picture in the stock market Wednesday, however. All classes of stocks declined steadily during the day. Industrial stocks closed the day off 5.80 points, to 130.14 on the Dow-Jones averages. Rails lost 1.51 points, to 32.38 and utilities declined 0.88, to 21.48. Rail bonds declined. Foreign markets were inactive and irregular.

Three leading Canadian Exchange announced reductions in margin requirements yesterday. Coffee was down to the limit yesterday, one cent a pound; rubber broke on slackening demand for tires; hides hit a new low since August, 1936, and wheat was lower.

Smaller attendance and smaller business at the current auto exhibits is seen as reflecting financial uncertainty and general business recession developed since Labor Day. There seems to be general expectation on the part of most motor executives that the aggregate volume of retail sales during the next two months will fall below the 1936 levels. This would also point to smaller production during the last two months of the year as compared with 1936. It is pointed out, however, that November and December, 1936, probably represented the peak of recovery for the industry.

Carloadings for week ended October 30 are estimated at 772,000, a less than seasonal decline. Electric output was 4.1 per cent ahead of a year ago.

American Power & Light reports net earnings for September quarter equal to $500,000, a common share, compared with one cent a share in 1936 quarter; Standard Oil of California, $1.02 compared with 59 cents; United Air Lines, 28 cents on shares outstanding, vs. 25 cents; Mack Trucks, 54 cents, vs. 61 cents.

October sales of McLellan Stores were off 2.4 per cent from a year ago.

Tammany Banks Hopes of Future on "Years to Come"

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—Tammany Hall, its comeback hopes, smashed by an avalanche of votes cast for Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia's "good government" and Thomas E. Dewey's promise of "no more racketeers," found solace today in aspirations held for 1938 and "years to come."

Following Tuesday's powerful municipal election victory for the mayor over Democrat Jeremiah T. Mahoney, and for the special rackets prosecutor over Tammany-endorsed Harold W. Hastings for the district attorneyship of New York county (Manhattan), there was a wide divergence of opinion but as for the immediate effects, there was little room for argument.

Mayor La Guardia predicted the "doom forever" of New York city machine government, adding: "Four years ago, a non-partisan, non-political government in New York city was a sort of experiment, but we have demonstrated that it is possible and also desirable."

He was speaking of machine politics of Tammany Hall, defeated for the first time twice in a row by "reform candidates," and which was staggered by the blow dealt by voters in spite of pleas for Mahoney by Postmaster General James A. Farley, Governor Herbert H. Lehman and other Democratic leaders.

Sullivan Echoed. Today, all Tammany had to say was to echo Christopher Sullivan, its leader: "We face the future cheerfully and look forward to glorious victories in 1938 and the years to come."

The work of building and strengthening the party began way already for perfecting the organization to bring it to a higher state of efficiency to assure success next year.

Ford Changed Mind
Detroit, Nov. 4 (AP)—Henry Ford experienced a $100,000 "change of mind" concerning a World Series broadcast last summer, friends of the automobile magnate said today, after the two New York teams clinched their respective league pennants. The $100,000 was paid for an option to broadcast the series games. Friends represented him as believing widespread interest was lacking in the New York "subway series."

Near Complete Returns in County on Six Amendments

The tabulation of votes in Ulster county on the six amendments is recorded in entirety with the exception of several election districts.

District No. 5, Saugerties, has not been recorded at all. Marlborough No. 2 has nothing on the first amendment. Saugerties No. 4 has nothing on Amendment No. 4, and on No. 6. Shandaken No. 2 and Shawangunk No. 1 are missing.

WAR EAGLES, TOO, TRAVEL ON THEIR STOMACHS as do other branches of military service. These Japanese aviators in North China treated themselves to a hearty meal just before taking off on a mission of bombing and death. One of Nippon's greatest problems during the present campaign in China has been to supply warriors with food as well as ammunition. To bring supplies a great naval force is kept busy constantly.

INTO BATTLE for reelection at Newburyport, Mass., went Mayor Bossy Gillis, shown preparing for his campaign, opened over a radio network.

THIS CAT CAN LOOK AT A KING without any feeling of inferiority. Furthermore its name is Prince Rahula. The pedigreed Siamese feline sailed in style as exclusive occupant of a class "A" deck room and bath aboard the Virginia, bound from New York to Panama City, home of its new owner.

TOPS IN TONSORIAL TOPIA is this towering coiffure awarded first prize among historic "monuments" entered in international hairdressing competition in Paris. Sausage curls flanking the sides and feathered toque atop the pompadour are in the suave style of Louis XV's court.

DEATH TAKING A HOLIDAY is portrayed graphically in these split-second photographs taken during a hill-climbing race near Buxton, England. Both the driver and a woman passenger escaped unhurt when the car hit a bank on steep Jenkins Chapel hill and overturned, trapping them beneath it.

A CARAVAN ACROSS THE YEARS, this picturesque 20-mule team pulling two wagons and a water tank cart appeared in Death Valley, Calif., as a feature of opening of a new link in the Mt. Whitney-Death Valley highway which connects the highest and lowest points in the United States. Like a picture from the colorful history of California's desertland was this creaking train drawn by plodding mules across the hot sands of the valley.

NAPOLEONIC in victory as in posture. New York's Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia was the first Fusion candidate in history to defeat Tammany twice in succession.

RIDING TO MEET DEMOCRACY, Great Britain's royalty made their first state drive together since the Coronation. Here is a closeup of the queen as they passed from Buckingham Palace to the House of Lords where King George VI opened Parliament for the first time in his reign.

A HIGH ONE was caught by 34-year-old Charley Gehringer when the Detroit Tiger ace received the American League "most valuable player" award.

CHINA'S RED HEAD, General Ho Lung, commander of communist armies there, smiles, but his face is determined. His forces have crippled Japs in the north.

ELSEWHERE THE SHOW IS ON, but in England there is rehearsal for a drama of Mars they hope will never be produced. While fleets of bombers showered death on cities in China and Spain, these ambulance brigadiers of Brighton carried a "victim" from a house during a mock air raid.

UP FROM THE ASHES of several poor seasons, Notre Dame appear to have risen this year with a good team. Chief passing threat is six foot, 180-pound Jack McCarthy, left halfback, whose aerial accuracy has spelled the downfall of many a powerful opponent as mid-season arrived.

...FIGHTING determination is written in the face of Right End Chuck Sweeney who broke through tough lines to send Navy and Minnesota to defeat.

...ON A PONY backfield racer, tiny Quarterback Andy Fuplis, has rested much of the responsibility for victories last year and this.

...TOWARD FORMER GLORY Notre Dame is led this year by Captain Joseph Zwiers, 170-pound end. On successive weekends the Layden lads were scheduled to meet Pittsburgh, Army, Northwestern and Southern California. Slow in starting, they showed great power in defeating Minnesota's Gophers.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

Strange as it may seem, New Yorkers are forgetful about money. They open bank accounts and forget all about them. This was revealed again during the last few weeks when the bank advertised their lists of unclaimed accounts. The accounts advertised were all of $10 and more. They don't amount to chicken feed either since the total in the state was $5,413,750. Fifty-one thousand persons made deposits in 440 banking institutions 15 years or more ago and then did nothing about them. Of these $1,000 accounts, more than half have been dormant for 22 years or more. That means that, unless claimed by the end of the year, $2,807,906 will be paid over to the state. It probably won't be all clear gain, however. At any time in the future, provided proper proof is made, the owner of the account may claim it.

In the past, the banks advertised dormant accounts year after year. In memory is one that went back to 1812. Under a simplification of banking laws, banks now need advertise accounts dormant for 15 years or more once a year for five years. Also they no longer state the amounts that remain unclaimed, merely supplying a list of names and addresses. The lists are long and are read with interest—much interest. I discovered that a number of years ago when I wrote a paragraph about unclaimed bank accounts and mentioned names of some of the oldest. Many persons wrote from here and there believing that they were relatives of the account owners.

One night down in Chinatown, a friendly detective from the Elizabeth street station pointed out a rather plain woman who seemed to be about sixty years old. That guess may be wrong since she disappeared around a corner too quickly for a good look. Apparently, she was merely a white woman passing hurriedly through that section, possibly bent on some errand. When the detective spoke the name, Rose Livingston, enlightenment came. Indeed, she was on some errand. Rose Livingston is known as "The Angel of Chinatown."

Thirty years ago, Rose Livingston took up a war against vice in Chinatown. Single-handed, she waged her battles with white slavery. How many girls she has saved is a matter known only to Miss Livingston and to the little group that supports her and her work—at a total outlay of $600 a year! How many threats she has received and how many times her life has been endangered, is a matter known only to herself. Slight and rather frail looking, she continues to successfully defy the underworld year after year.

Recently, Mrs. J. Sergeant Cram, founder and director of Peace House, Fifth Avenue and One Hundred and Ninth Street, announced awards of silver cups for deeds of courage without violence. On the list was the name of Rose Livingston. Difficulty was encountered in notifying Miss Livingston of the honor. That was due to the fact that her place of residence is known only to those closest to her. She lives in utter obscurity in a tiny uptown East Side flat and her neighbors are ignorant of her identity.

A radio executive related to me a bit of a yarn dealing with the resourcefulness of those young women who make their living as stewardesses of airplanes. He was flying out to Salt Lake City and when over the mountains, a storm broke. Having been raised in that section, he knew what would happen should the plane fall so despite himself, he became worried. Noticing his condition, the stewardess got a book and, sitting down beside him, read a chapter. That chapter was entitled, "How to Quiet Nervous Passengers." And it worked perfectly! © Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.

Pasteurization Removes Wallop From Hard Cider
Holland, Mich.—The vice—or virtue—that enables innocent apple cider to acquire a wallop has been eliminated by successful experiments at Michigan college.
A feasible plan for pasteurizing cider to retain its freshness and rosy color will be employed by Michigan farmers this year, according to Ottawa county's agricultural agent, L. R. Arnold.
Arnold said the new process would prevent cider from becoming hard for several months.

Barnyard Hens Help to Raise Pheasants
Portland, Ore.—China pheasant hunters in the Pacific Northwest can doff their hats to the drab little barnyard setting hen in thanks for their days of good shooting, because without her help their days of good shooting would be few and far between.
You have the word of Frank Wire, Oregon state game supervisor on that point.
Barnyard hens are necessary to pheasant raising. Wire said, because the mother pheasant loses her maternal instinct when in captivity.

Hoover Invited
Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 4 (UP)—Former President Herbert Hoover has been invited to participate in a discussion of training of American youth for public life here November 12. The discussion, a part of the dedication exercises of a new $500,000 citizenship building on the Syracuse University campus, will be held among leaders in political science, education and public administration.

Registration for Evening School

Registration for Kingston evening school at the high school will be held next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the high school and several classes need more students for completion—public speaking, seven, cooking eight, sewing six, higher mathematics 10.

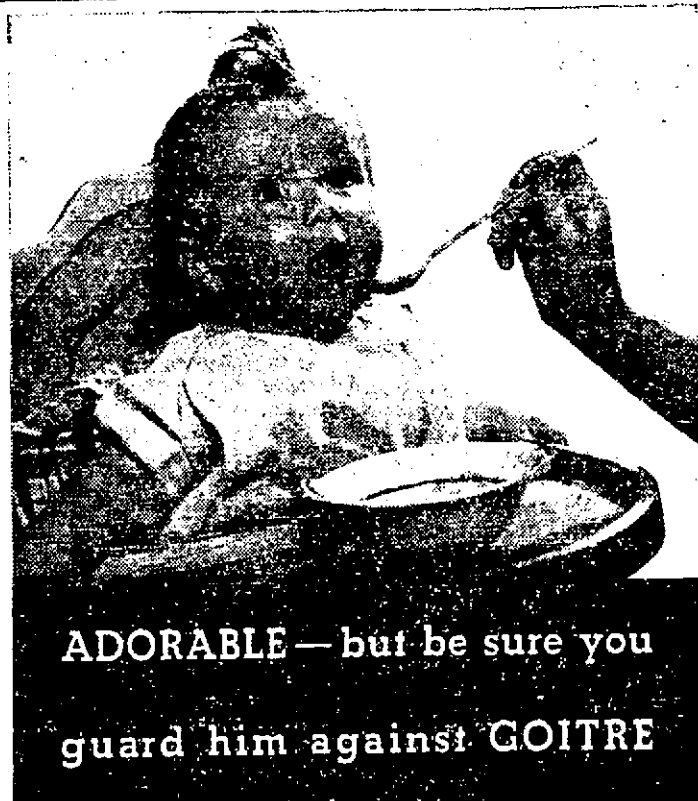

An arts and crafts class will be started if enough students can be procured. The work will offer a choice of interior decoration, fancy work and advance work. In the interior decoration division there will be instruction in curtain drapery, hooked rugs, crocheted rugs, Christmas gift suggestions, use of crepe paper, use of raffia, cloth animals, lamp shade, and toy craft.

The fancy work class will offer crocheting, knitting, sewing, tatting, stitching, embroidery, needlecraft, applique. Advance work will cover linoleum printing as cards and wall hanging, simple weaving, as pocket books, purses, leather work as portfolios, tooling, book binding as portfolios, address books, batik work, tie dyeing, soap sculpture, paper mache, paper craft, plastic modelling, net weaving, bead work, reed work, pottery and cretonne.

City Officials Go To Albany Hearing

Mayor C. J. Heiselman, Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin and City Engineer James Norton left Kingston this morning at 8:30 o'clock to motor to Albany where they will attend the public hearing held by the state public service commission on the city's petition to eliminate all railroad grade crossings in the city. The hearing is scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning. Plans for eliminating all of the crossings in the city were prepared by City Engineer Norton, who estimated the total cost at approximately $4,500,000.

ADORABLE—but be sure you guard him against GOITRE

How can you be sure that the food your child eats contains sufficient iodine to protect him from goitre? There is only one sure precaution. The Council on Foods of the American Medical Association states: "Worcester Iodized Salt used daily as the only salt on the table and in cooking richly supplements the iodine of diets deficient in that element and thus helps to protect against simple goitre."

Don't risk your child's health. Insist on Worcester Iodized Salt—and only Worcester—for "Worcester Iodized" has the same delicious salty taste of Worcester's Ivory Salt.

CHICHESTER

Chichester, Nov. 4. Bernard Lynch gave a Halloween party to some of his playmates Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ryan and children, and Mrs. L. M. Frederic took supper with the Rev. and Mrs. D. Osgood, of Willow, on Friday.

Miss Anna Kahler, of Schenectady, spent the week-end with her brother, Clinton.
Miss Martha Zollner, of New Jersey, visited friends in this place over the week-end.
Mr. and Mrs. Palmatier visited her sister, Mrs. E. Hanel, on Sunday.

Mrs. L. Keator and Mrs. G. Coley were Kingston callers recently.
Miss Jennie Roberts, who has employment in New York, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. H. Hill.

Up and at 'Em

Birdseye View Of Sports Events

By EDDIE BRIETZ.

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—Out in Michigan, the fans are giving out. Walter O. Briggs, Sr., the old razzberry for proposing to change the name of the Detroit Tigers' ball park from Navin Field to Briggs Stadium. Gene Tunney has been playing golf with a crew of New Deal big shots at Pinehurst and rumor has it he is in line for some sort of an appointment. Is Bill Terry asking other National League managers what they'll give for Carl Hubbell? Max Schmeling sails for New York tomorrow. And the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will be fellow passengers in the Bremen, by Jove.

They've already hunkered out the S. R. O. sign for next Sunday's tussle between the Bears and Green Bay Packers in Chicago. What's this about Red Dawson, Tulane's smart young coach, being ticketed for Minnesota as Bernie Bierman's first lieutenant? South's No. 1 aerial display of the season is promised when Clemson and Georgia Tech clash this week with Fletcher Sims and Bob Bailey's electric pitching. Light men say Joe Gould has emerged one of the best heavy-weight prospects in the country in young Tom Beaupre, the Dallas fighter. Newspapers say Bobby Jones' Atlanta home is on the market.

Paul Shu, Virginia military star whom Prof. Paul Michelson called "far and away the best back on the field," was especially anxious to make a good showing against Army last week. When he graduated from Alexandria (Va.) High, Shu tried to enter West Point, but was turned down. "His heart's a little weak and he'd never stand the gaff at West Point," said the Sawbones. "Quack! Notre Dame is giving a 'perfect scouting job' by Joe Benda plenty of credit for its victory over Minnesota. Sylvia Sidney, the screen pretty, all but stopped traffic in front of the Hippodrome yesterday when she paused to admire photos of the Alesers, Nagurski, Little Wolf and other wrestlers.

(Mysterious) Montague will show New Yorkers how he does his golf stuff in a special match for charity November 14. Babe Ruth will be his partner. Out-of-town fight promoters are here in droves. Busy Little Soldier Farr from Chicago wants to live up either Lou Ambers of Henry Armstrong for a December bout with Davey Day. Tony Palaola has come all the way from San Francisco to book a few likely heavyweights. Clyde (Bucky) Crouse, veteran Baltimore catcher, won the sporting news award for the most valuable player in the International League.

Jimmy Leno, the welterweight, sailed November 23 for a January bout with Jack Carroll in Sydney, Australia. Joe Louis still is on the coast with his soft ball team, but you'd hardly know it from reading the papers. Coast writers say Joe is hopeless as newspaper copy. "Mebbe," wrote one scribe, "he believes heavyweight champions should be felt and not heard." You'd hear a lot about James Abbe, a triple-threat back down at Elon College in North Carolina, if he was going to a bigger school. He passes left-handed and kicks left-footed.

The fresh were given the ball in the long workout and Coach Ossie Solem had the linemen charge, while the backs diagnosed the plays, doing no tackling.

PRESBYTERIANS WILL PLAY CONGREGATIONALS

The First Presbyterian softball team is scheduled to play the Congregationals tonight at the latter team's court. Captain Les Dennis of the Presbyterians is anxious that his tossers meet at 7:45 o'clock at their church.

NEUN SIGNS AS BEARS' MANAGER

Johnny Neun, pilot in the New York Yankees chain store, for several years, shown as manager of the New York Bears of the International League. Standing is Ray Kennedy, secretary of the club.

Final arrangements. The Associated Press learned today, hinge only on obtaining a suitable opponent for the famous Californian.

The prospects are that Mrs. Moody will make her professional debut in Madison Square Garden, playing in January, and that her rival will be Jarwina Jedrzejska, the husky Polish girl who was runner-up to Anita Lizana of Chile for the United States singles title.

It is understood that Miss Lizana, as well as two American stars, Alice Marble and Helen Hull Jacobs, turned down professional offers.

It is believed Mrs. Moody has been guaranteed a substantial sum, probably $25,000, in addition to a substantial percentage of gate receipts. Estimates of her potential earnings for a single professional season range from $50,000 to $100,000.

Helen W. Moody Will Turn Pro

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—Helen Willis Moody, whose long-time reign as queen of the world's tennis courts covered a period from 1923 to 1935, has agreed to accept a professional contract and make a country-wide tour this winter.

PUNTS AND PASSES

Pasadena, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP)—

California's Golden Bears, Pasadena bound at the moment, have their eye officially on either Dartmouth or Yale as a Rose Bowl football opponent here January 1.

While the Rose tournament's athletic committee in no wise makes selections—that's the privilege of the Pacific Coast Conference representative—it unofficially sends out "feelers" early in November.

The report is out that four of these have been sent, and that Dartmouth and Yale got half of them. Silence on the part of the recipients is expected, since the "feeler" only asks if the school would be willing to accept an invitation were it tendered.

Yale, of course, is tied to a ban on post-season games. The cheer leading on the western slope aside from Dartmouth and Yale centers for the most part around Alabama and Duke in the south, Pittsburgh in the east and Nebraska in the middle-west.

Raiders Study Passes

Hamilton, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—In a defensive drill against passes here today, Colgate's Red Raiders received a first rate workout.

Les Hart, backfield coach, took a place in the backfield and rifled passing all over the lot.

Exhibiting some of his college form, Hart gave the first string defense team some uncomfortable moments as she showed what a Holy Cross team might accomplish when they face the Red Raiders at Worcester on Saturday.

Cornell Works Hard

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—Coach Carl Snavely stressed offensive maneuvers today as he drove his big red Cornell football machine through a long tag game and a half-throttle scrimmage.

Snavely announced that the hard work in preparation for the Dartmouth game at Hanover a week from Saturday will continue through tomorrow and then the team will have another day off Saturday.

Study Red at Plays

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—Syracuse University's football team was sent today against a freshmen team armed with the trickiest plays of the western reserve Red Cats, whom the Orange will meet here on Saturday.

The fresh were given the ball in the long workout and Coach Ossie Solem had the linemen charge, while the backs diagnosed the plays, doing no tackling.

Ends 54 Years of Railroad Service

When asked if he had ever carried any presidents of the United States, Mr. Elmendorf said that the nearest he had come to that was "one time when I had charge of a train that carried Woodrow Wilson, then governor of New Jersey, up the branch to Tannersville—but I didn't think then that he would ever be president."

Observes Changes

During his railroading career, Wilbur Elmendorf has seen iron rails give way to the modern steel, a narrow-gauge branch made into standard gauge, the Elster & Delaware run its tracks on through to Oneonta from its former terminus at Stamford, and five superintendents and three trainmasters come and go. He has watched the development of the present fast passenger service, the outlawing of the treacherous link and pin couplers, and the coming of the modern ten-wheel locomotive, replacing the light motive power formerly used on the mountain railroad.

Saturday morning, Conductor Elmendorf climbed the steps of his caboose attached to the milk train empties, and began his last trip as conductor over the road to which he has given the better part of his life. He arrived in Oneonta Saturday evening, laid over there until Sunday, and began the return trip to Kingston where he was met by the delegation of friends.

His Last Train

His last train arrived here about 5:30 Sunday evening, and was made up of 10 milk cars, a combination coach, and a caboose. It was hauled by engine 814, with Charles Neebe as engineer and Henry Diehl as fireman, and engine 809, Claude Lasher, engineer, and John Watson fireman. His brakemen were Fred Schermerhorn, Ephraim Rowe and Jerry Casey.

Conductor Wilbur Elmendorf was one of the best-liked trainmen on the Catskill Mountain Branch, and many travelers and fellow railroaders will miss the cheery word and helping hand which signaled those in the vicinity that the veteran railroader was "on the job."

Willing Workers Meeting

The Ashokan Willing Workers will hold their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Whittle on Friday evening, November 5 at 7:30.

Ordinary ropes 12 and 14 inches in diameter were strong enough to haul the fire-wrecked Morrie Castle from the beach at Asbury Park, N. J.

Kingston Kiddies Halloween Party

Kingston's largest party in the municipal auditorium — attended by more than 5,000 children and grown-ups in Halloween attire last Monday evening — is caught by the Freeman photographer, who was forced to worm his way back and forth to get in position for this picture. Some idea of the number packed into the building may be gained from the multitude on the floor, and the mass jammed into the seats under the rafters of the structure.

The central photograph shows the High School Band on the march down Broadway, leading one of the two contingents of children bound for the Halloween party. The other parade started in the downtown section and marched up Broadway, led by the American Legion Drum Corps, the two parades meeting at the auditorium.

Men's Club Party Friday Evening

The First Presbyterian Men's Club is planning to entertain many of its friends Friday evening in the Ramsey Memorial Hall of the church, when a specially prepared program will be presented in honor of the club's Ladies' Night.

John Hurt, humorous illustrator of Woodstock, will be the club's honor guest, and he has promised those present a lively hour of entertainment, featuring his chalk-board caricatures and witty running-fire comment. Contests between the ladies and men in various indoor sports, including shuffleboard, quoits and darts, will serve to enliven the friendly rivalry between the members of many a neighborhood household.

All men and ladies of the church congregation are invited to attend and become better acquainted with the active, friendly group of more than 50 men of the church who are sponsoring the affair. The program will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

Annual Turkey Dinner
On Wednesday, November 17, the Ladies' Aid of the First Dutch Church will serve its annual turkey dinner. The dinner this year will be in charge of Mrs. William Longyear and Mrs. Margaret Conklin. The public is invited to attend. A social hour will follow the dinner, which will be held in the chapel of the church.

The Ground Cherry
Many wild plants have names that tell something about their fruits. The ground cherry is in this group. One of its names is the Chinese lantern plant. This refers to the unusual shape of the fruit. Each little berry is less than half an inch in diameter, but it is encased in a brown inflated case which looks something like a miniature Chinese lantern. A different kind of ground cherry growing in the Southwest is known as the wild tomato and is especially relished by the Zuni Indians as well as the whites. Indians make a relish with the ripe fruit by boiling it, then crushing it in a mortar with raw onions and chili. In pioneer days of the Middle West housewives used to gather ground cherries for preserves.

The 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, travel experts believe, will bring about the greatest westward surge of visitors in history.

STUBBORN RHEUMATISM

Most of the aches, pains, stiffness, soreness and lameness of stubborn rheumatism, sciatica, neuritis and rheumatic gout are caused or aggravated by excess uric acid or other circulating poisons. This being the case, one outstanding swift and safe prescription, as any modern druggist will tell you is Allen's Capsules—little green, easily swallowed capsules that are powerful yet harmless. Take these highly effective capsules as directed—often the pain and agony go in 48 hours—you won't be disappointed. Save this. Adv.

August 24, 1938, Is Date Fixed for Ulster County Fair

The annual Ulster county fair will again be held in Kingston in 1938. This was decided upon at a meeting of the board of directors of the Ulster County Agricultural Society. The date fixed is August 24.

Secretary E. W. Hathaway said this morning that the fair officials were busy getting ready to send out the premiums awarded at the 1937 fair which was held in Forest Park. The premium list amounts to about $4,400.

Next year's fair will be a one-day fair and will be held in Forest Park. The fair this year was so successful when held outdoors that the directors decided to hold it at the uptown park again next year.

It is planned to have the usual exhibits of poultry, produce, cattle, horses, etc., as well as displays by the various county Granges.

There was no admittance charge to the fair this year and the same policy will be carried out next year.

WOMAN'S EXCHANGE PLANS CARD PARTY.

Plans are being completed for the Woman's Exchange annual card party to be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on November 19. The board of managers of the Exchange is exerting every effort to make this one of the outstanding events of the fall social season. Play will begin at 2 p. m. Attendance at the card party assures one the pleasure of a social afternoon of cards and the knowledge that her presence will help towards continuing this worthwhile service for others. Anyone wishing to make reservation for a table may do so by calling Mrs. Alva Staples, phone 607.
